Hancock Woman Chosen

'Festival Belle' At 80

By CHARLES CRONIN

Mrs. Gussie Rice of New Cumberland has been chosen as Hancock County's first representative to the West Virginia State Folk Festival June 21-23 at Glenville.

And despite her 80 years, active Mrs. Rice is eagerly looking forward to another "adventure" at the festival which will emphasize the state's pioneer culture and early way of life.

DRESSED in fashionable garments of a bygone era, the spry octogenarian will step out gaily with 54 other "Festival Belles" from the state to help add an authentic touch to the 12-year-old event.

A native of Columbiana County, Mrs. Rice said she was "As happy as a lark" over her selection by the County Farm Women's Council to participate as a "Festival Belle."

The event will bring into focus memories of her days as a youth in Hancock County where she has resided for 58 years.

NOTIFIED of her selection as the county's first representative to the festival, Mrs. Rice began gathering an old-fashioned costume and borrowed the necessary clothing from the J. H. Mayhew family of Pughtown. The Mayhews were among the first settlers in the area.

Her ensemble, almost as old as she is, includes a black taffeta blouse and black satin skirt which covers her shoes, a velvet hat and purse, and black gloves.

The festival is to "remind us and to point up the early way of life in West Virginia," officials say, but Mrs. Rice doesn't think "modern" West Virginia needs to go overlooked.

—:—

"TOURISTS OUGHT to visit our state, especially in the southern counties, where the country is beautiful," Mrs. Rice declared. She travels "Whenever I get the opportunity."

What does she think of the "twist," the current dance craze?

"IT'S JUST NOT LARGE ENOUGH," Mrs. Ruth McPherson, left, says of this heirloom handbag which Mrs. Gussie Rice of New Cumberland will carry to the West Virginia State Folk Festival at Glenville. The 80-year-old Hancock Countian will wear her old-fashioned costume to the festival June 21-23 as one of the 55 "Festival Belles" to help recreate the state's pioneer days in exhibits, demonstrations, dances, music, drama and story. Mrs. McPherson is the county farm womens' club agent.

"It's disgusting," Mrs. Rice says, pointing out square dancing used to be one of her favorite pastimes.

Born Oct. 24, 1881 in Franklin Square near Lisbon, Mrs. Rice was reared in Salem and later came to the Mountaineer state. Her husband, the late John P. Rice, was a county commissioner for 12 years.

—:—

THOUGH HER HAIR turned to silver long ago and her pleasant smile accents lines etched by time, Mrs. Rice doesn't let her age stop her from enjoying herself.

She's remarkably spry for 80 years, and though her eyesight is failing, she enjoys sewing and watching television and occasionally traveling.

She has been an active member

FBI Joins Search

Hunt Widens For Trio In Alcatraz Pen Break

Criminals Sought In California

Used Stolen Spoons To Dig Through Vents Of Cell Wall

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The search went on today for three bank robbers who vanished from tide-swept Alcatraz Island prison in San Francisco Bay Tuesday after wriggling through cell wall vents tediously enlarged with stolen spoons.

Skillfully made dummies in their bunks prevented guards from discovering their absence for several hours.

Warden Olin Blackwell said he does not believe the three men, led by a convict with an IQ of 132, are alive if they tried to swim for it.

However, because of the thoroughness of the trio's planning to bust "The Rock," officials concede that the men could have made it ashore on a makeshift raft.

Nor do they discount the possibility that Frank Lee Morris, 35, the leader, and two brothers, John, 32, and Clarence Anglin, 31, are still on the island, lurking in a water's edge cave.

An ever-widening search—coordinated by the FBI—has spread over northern California.

Their escape was discovered at 7:15 a.m. Tuesday. They were last seen at 9:30 p.m. Monday.

No one is known to have survived an escape attempt from "The Rock" in its 28 years as a federal prison, although 35 men tried it in 11 separate attempts.

Warden Blackwell told how the three men escaped the attention of authorities.

At 5 p.m. Monday, as usual, the Senate Probe Continues On Night Clubs

Entertainer From Philadelphia Will Be Quizzed Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers hear today from a Philadelphia entertainer and then put the spotlight on Chicago night clubs.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., is exploring allegations that paid officials of the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA) connived in many of the big cities with night club operators.

Subcommittee sources said the Philadelphia performer, Dick Jones, a former AGVA official, fought the alleged exploitation of night club entertainers. A cryptic subcommittee announcement said only that Jones would tell his story from the witness stand.

After hearing Jones the senators will turn their attention to the situation in Chicago, quizzing Ernest Fast, recently deposed Midwest regional director of AGVA; two Chicago police officials; and James Allegretti, whom they describe as a purported silent partner in some Chicago night spots under scrutiny in the hearings.

Penny Singleton, an actress who portrayed "Blondie" in the movies and on radio and television, fired bitter blasts at AGVA Tuesday as the hearings opened. She is a former president of the AFL-CIO-affiliated union.

Miss Singleton aimed squarely at Jackie Bright, the union's administrative secretary and executive officer. Bright told reporters he would deny her accusations point by point when he testifies.

Miss Singleton charged that the union doesn't enforce contracts forbidding employers to require their entertainers to mingle with the customers. She said many exotic and strip tease dancers had to become bar girls, hustling overpriced drinks from male customers, "or worse," as the price of getting a job.

Auburn-haired Pat Lynn Hackett, a singer, and blonde Patty Joyce, who described herself as an exotic dancer, testified they had fought employer pressures to serve as B-girls. Both are from Philadelphia.

Police Inspector Frank Rizzo of Philadelphia, testified Miss Joyce hadn't even told half the story of B-girls' missions to fleece "visiting firemen." He said the Philadelphia police in two years have closed clip joints by systematically raiding and harassing them.

Rizzo testified angrily that this was achieved despite harassment of his men by club owners' lawyers, the Philadelphia branch of the American Civil Liberties Union, some frustrating efforts to lift offending clubs' liquor licenses, criticism from the courts, and less than enthusiastic support from the Philadelphia citizenry.

Soviet To Resume Soon

U.S. Will 'Snoop' On Reds' A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—With Russia expected to resume atmospheric nuclear testing soon, American experts reportedly are preparing to do a little snooping of their own.

The Russians have four instrument ships posted around Christmas and Johnston Islands in the Pacific to gather information about the American test series which began April 25 and now has reached about the midway point. There is every reason to believe the Russians have collected considerable data in the weeks their ships have been there.

Although neither of the great nuclear powers says anything publicly about its own snooping operations, each has kept close check on what the other has been doing in nuclear test blasts over the years of the atomic weapons race.

The new Soviet series could come at any time in view of Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's recent declaration that the American experiments have "forced us to renew our tests."

The Russians normally test in remote regions or deep in the heart of the Soviet Union.

The Russian tests last fall, it is known, were conducted above uninhabited Novaya Zemlya, a crescent-shaped island on the edge of the Arctic.

So far as is known, the United States does not have the kind of instrument ships being used by the Soviets to spy on U.S. tests in the Pacific.

But it is believed U.S. nuclear submarines—which have proved their ability to operate in the Arctic even in winter—may have had a grandstand seat for the last Russian tests.

The most modern American subs carry advanced radar gear and supersensitive underwater listening equipment.

This radar can spot cloud formations—and that could include atomic and hydrogen mushroom clouds—from as much as 200 miles away.

Sound-detecting devices can pick up shock waves, of the sort a nuclear blast might send through water.

A watching sub might mark the precise time of a nuclear explosion—a factor important in later analysis of the airborne debris drifting across the world.

Much of the air sampling in the wake of Russian tests is done in the Alaskan areas, which lie in the path of the radioactive debris moving with prevailing winds.

American aircraft fly into these air masses, then open nose ports which trap atomic particles flowing inside. These particles are brought back to laboratories and are subjected to microscopic, chemical and spectrochemical analysis.

Car's Plunge In Junk Yard Hurts Woman

Man Loses Control In Klondyke, Auto Hurtles 10 Feet

An Oakland district woman suffered back injuries Tuesday night when a car skidded on wet pavement on a Klondyke street near the state line, then plunged through a fence and over a sheer 10-foot embankment into an auto wrecking yard.

Mrs. Virgie May Yacynyk, 49, of 1650 Park Ave. was released after treatment at City Hospital. She was a passenger in a 1957 sedan driven by Mike Yacynyk, 67, of the same address which went off Harvey Ave. at 7:13 p. m. and wound up in the yard of the Tucker Auto Wrecking Co., operated by Carter Tucker.

Yacynyk told police he was westbound about 30 to 35 miles an hour and attempting to pass another vehicle when his car went out of control. Tucker said the car tore down about 24 feet of a woven wire fence around his junk yard.

In its plunge into the scrap yard, the Yacynyk car hit an old, wrecked car. East End firemen were called to standby, but there was no fire.

There was damage to the entire left side and left rear quarter panel of Yacynyk's car, police said. Patrolmen L. E. Richard and Paul Blevins investigated.

Tucker blamed the crash on the "bleeding" blacktop sealcoat on Harvey Ave., which he said was made especially slippery by rain.

"Cars were spinning around up here like they were on ice," Tucker said. "I saw two cars turn completely around on Harvey Ave. and just miss a fire hydrant."

Tucker declared the street was so slippery last night pedestrians had difficulty in crossing without falling. Fine slag has been spread on the wet sealcoat on at least two occasions in an attempt to eliminate the condition.

A bus and an auto were damaged in a minor mishap at 5:20

Stock Trading Heavy In New Market Test

Striving To Keep Above Low Levels Of 'Black Monday'

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market trading was heavy and prices narrowly lower today as the market began testing whether it can keep above the low levels hit on "Black Monday," May 28.

Opening sales included a few large blocks, but not so many as to indicate heavy liquidation similar to that which marked trading late in May.

American Telephone was off $1.12 to $104 and Ford lost $1.63 to $80.63, while most other key issues lost fractions.

Brokers watched trading anxiously, looking for signs of resistance — buyers coming in at new lower prices—at or above the levels of last month's nosedive, the worst since 1929.

Lacking such buying support, they said, a further slump may result.

The market suffered its third worst loss of the current sag Tuesday. An estimated $6.8 billion was erased from the quoted value of the stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The market was too delicately balanced to resist statements and developments which investors considered disturbing, some Wall Street sources said.

They mentioned President Kennedy's remarks at the Yale University commencement exercises which were interpreted in some financial circles as meaning he wouldn't back down from his economic ideas in the face of disapproval by business men.

They also referred to the statement by Federal Budget Director David E. Bell in a New York speech that the administration would change its spending and tax policies this year if the economy falls into a serious lag.

All through the recent market decline Kennedy and his advisers have attributed it to what they called investors' realization that stock prices had climbed too far and a belief that inflation's effect on the economy had abated.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told newsmen today he has accepted an invitation to attend a dinner meeting of the Ripon Club in Cleveland Thursday night.

'Chain Crash' Cases Involve 8-Car Total

Four cars were estimated a total loss and four others were damaged in two "chain reaction" accidents Tuesday afternoon on the East Liverpool - Midland Rd. during heavy homebound traffic of mill employes from Midland. No one was injured.

Ohioville Borough Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said the first accident occurred on Route 68 about 2:50 p. m. near the Smiths Ferry Post Office when an unidentified motorist stopped to unload a passenger.

He said a car driven by Henry R. Davis, 305 Gardendale Ave., East Liverpool, stopped to avoid hitting the unidentified car ahead. A car driven by Carl C. Auville, 421 Jefferon St., Newell, hit the rear of the Davis car and a car driven by Charles L. Hoffman of Chester, hit the Auville auto.

Hoffman's 1956 car was considered a total loss and there was about $150 damage to the Davis 1962 auto and $400 to Auville's 1960, police estimated.

Zlatovich said the second mishap occurred when traffic slowed and stopped for the first accident. The second accident occurred a short distance up the road about two miles west of Midland. Five cars collided in this order:

A 1962 car driven by Bernard Onuska, 27, of Smiths Ferry, who had stopped, a 1955 car driven by Bernard E. Bolton, 40, of 1180 Harker Ave., one driven by Stanley Paulauskas, 98 Railroad St., Chester, one driven by Sheridan Young, 32, of 408 Elm St., East Liverpool, and last, Glenn E. Gilbert, 42, of East Liverpool R. D. 2.

Estimated as a total loss were Paulauskas' 1955 auto, Young's 1956 and Gilbert's 1951.

Police said oil drawn up to the surface of the road by the sun and made slippery by the afternoon rain made it difficult for the motorists to stop. It took three wreckers and two hours to get traffic moving normally.

Industry Police Chief Guy St. Esprit assisted at the scene along with Francis Vallera, Ohioville special officer, who assisted at the second mishap.

Kennedy Sets News Conference Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will hold a news conference Thursday at 4 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time.

Firm's 2 Top Officials Due In Estes Case

New York Company Executives Face House Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top officials of the Commercial Solvents Co., the firm which bankrolled Billie Sol Estes' now collapsed fertilizer empire in West Texas, were called today to explain their actions to a House subcommittee.

Maynard C. Wheeler, president of the New York chemical company, and William Leonhardt, vice president and treasurer, were scheduled as witnesses as the subcommittee began another two days of hearings in the House caucus room.

Possible future witnesses are two Agriculture Department officials in the Eisenhower administration who resigned to take jobs with Commercial Solvents.

In addition to his huge dealings in surplus grain storage and cotton allotment transfers, Estes built up a flimsy pyramid in the liquid fertilizer business, trying to corner the market in West Texas by cutting prices below cost.

The fertilizer was anhydrous ammonia, use of which has become a way of life for farmers in sausage-shaped 1,000-gallon tanks, mounted on wheels for easy movement.

Estes bought his fertilizer from Commercial Solvents, assigning the proceeds from his government grain storage contracts as payment. The New York firm got more than $7 million in these government payments, but it was not enough to square the account.

The bankrupt Estes still owes Commercial Solvents $5.7 million.

To get operating cash, Estes worked out a scheme of discounting mortgages on the fertilizer tanks, but most of the tanks did not exist. This led to his indictment on fraud charges.

Commercial Solvents was named in a civil antitrust suit filed against Estes by the state of Texas, on the ground that its extension of millions of dollars in credit to Estes enabled him to run competitors out of business and corner the market by selling below cost.

One of the oddest byproducts of the Estes case came into the news again Tuesday.

It was disclosed that Mark K. Jones, 51-year-old agriculture department secretary, has asked

Expedite Plan For St. Clair, State Advises

The State Highway Department at Columbus asked the city today to "proceed as quickly as possible" on completion of detailed plans for a new concrete roadway on outer St. Clair Ave., which means the project will be ready for a call for contractors' bids by late September or early October.

The letter to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet from the department's central office was signed by Guy Neeper, deputy director for planning and programming.

By its action today, the state accepted data submitted by the city in mid-May covering operation of the new facility and proposed parking regulations. At that time, the project had been approved for programming as a 36-foot roadway by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

The improvement will stretch from Princeton Ave. to the city limits. Its total length is 8,500 feet and the cost has been estimated at approximately $400,000. The federal agency will pay 50 per cent of the cost.

The detailed plans are being prepared by Glaus, Pyle & Schomer, a Youngstown consulting engineering firm retained by the city nearly a year ago.

Neeper's letter said that construction plans should be submitted at least two months before contractor's bids will be sought.

City Engineer George S. Bloomgren estimated that construction plans can be completed by the first week of July. That means the state probably could let a contract in late September or early October, he explained.

About a year ago, the federal agency added St. Clair to the federal aid secondary system of highways, guaranteeing the U. S. will pay 50 per cent of the cost. Negotiations for the project have been under way for about two and a half years.

Replies To Soviet Premier

Kennedy Informs Mr. K Laos Very Encouraging

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that the formation of a coalition government in Laos is very encouraging.

Kennedy replied to a message from Khrushchev in which the Soviet leader said the agreement on a coalition government could serve as a guide to the solution of other problems between East and West.

"The formation of this government of national unity under Prince Souvanna Phouma marks a milestone in the sustained efforts which have been put forward toward this end, especially since our meeting in Vienna," Kennedy told Khrushchev.

"It is equally important that we should now press forward, with our associates in the Geneva conference, to complete these arrangements and to work closely together in their execution. We must continue also to do our best to persuade all concerned in Laos to work together to this same end.

"It is very important that no untoward actions anywhere be allowed to disrupt the progress which has been made."

Kennedy agreed with Khrushchev that continued progress in a settlement of the Laotian problem can be helpful in leading toward the resolution of other international difficulties.

"If together we can help in the establishment of an independent and neutral Laos, securely sustained in this status through time, this accomplishment will surely have a significant and positive effect far beyond the borders of Laos," Kennedy said in his message.

"You can count on the continued and energetic efforts of the government of the United States toward that end."

Kennedy's reply to Khrushchev's message was dated June 12 and was made public by the White House this morning.

That the little Southeast Asian country should be independent and neutral, not a cause for East-West conflict, is one point on which Kennedy and Khrushchev have agreed since they met in Vienna a year ago. But only now are the rival neutralist, pro-Western and pro-Communist Laotian princes settling on a nationwide government deemed needed to remove their land from the cold war.

Cool Spell Follows Series Of Showers

Heavy showers Tuesday afternoon brought cooler temperatures that will last through tonight. Thursday will be sunny and warmer.

The showers, heavy at times, apparently were localized as the Stratton Dam reported only 0.05 inch of precipitation while the city area was getting an estimated third of an inch of much needed moisture.

The rain tumbled temperatures almost 15 degrees, from an afternoon mark of 78 to 64 in midevening. Today's high will be a coolish 65 to 73 and tonight's low 46 to 52.

Stock Trading Heavy In New Market Test

Striving To Keep Above Low Levels Of 'Black Monday'

Lacking such buying support, they said, a further slump may result.

The market suffered its third worst loss of the current sag Tuesday. An estimated $6.8 billion was erased from the quoted value of the stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The market was too delicately balanced to resist statements and developments which investors considered disturbing, some Wall Street sources said.

They mentioned President Kennedy's remarks at the Yale University commencement exercises which were interpreted in some financial circles as meaning he wouldn't back down from his economic ideas in the face of disapproval by business men.

They also referred to the statement by Federal Budget Director David E. Bell in a New York speech that the administration would change its spending and tax policies this year if the economy falls into a serious lag.

All through the recent market decline Kennedy and his advisers have attributed it to what they called investors' realization that stock prices had climbed too far and a belief that inflation's effect on the economy had abated.

'Chain Crash' Cases Involve 8-Car Total

Four cars were estimated a total loss and four others were damaged in two "chain reaction" accidents Tuesday afternoon on the East Liverpool - Midland Rd. during heavy homebound traffic of mill employes from Midland. No one was injured.

Ohioville Borough Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said the first accident occurred on Route 68 about 2:50 p. m. near the Smiths Ferry Post Office when an unidentified motorist stopped to unload a passenger.

He said a car driven by Henry R. Davis, 305 Gardendale Ave., East Liverpool, stopped to avoid hitting the unidentified car ahead. A car driven by Carl C. Auville, 421 Jefferon St., Newell, hit the rear of the Davis car and a car driven by Charles L. Hoffman of Chester, hit the Auville auto.

Hoffman's 1956 car was considered a total loss and there was about $150 damage to the Davis 1962 auto and $400 to Auville's 1960, police estimated.

Zlatovich said the second mishap occurred when traffic slowed and stopped for the first accident. The second accident occurred a short distance up the road about two miles west of Midland. Five cars collided in this order:

A 1962 car driven by Bernard Onuska, 27, of Smiths Ferry, who had stopped, a 1955 car driven by Bernard E. Bolton, 40, of 1180 Harker Ave., one driven by Stanley Paulauskas, 98 Railroad St., Chester, one driven by Sheridan Young, 32, of 408 Elm St., East Liverpool, and last, Glenn E. Gilbert, 42, of East Liverpool R. D. 2.

Estimated as a total loss were Paulauskas' 1955 auto, Young's 1956 and Gilbert's 1951.

Police said oil drawn up to the surface of the road by the sun and made slippery by the afternoon rain made it difficult for the motorists to stop. It took three wreckers and two hours to get traffic moving normally.

Industry Police Chief Guy St. Esprit assisted at the scene along with Francis Vallera, Ohioville special officer, who assisted at the second mishap.

Firm's 2 Top Officials Due In Estes Case

New York Company Executives Face House Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top officials of the Commercial Solvents Co., the firm which bankrolled Billie Sol Estes' now collapsed fertilizer empire in West Texas, were called today to explain their actions to a House subcommittee.

Maynard C. Wheeler, president of the New York chemical company, and William Leonhardt, vice president and treasurer, were scheduled as witnesses as the subcommittee began another two days of hearings in the House caucus room.

Possible future witnesses are two Agriculture Department officials in the Eisenhower administration who resigned to take jobs with Commercial Solvents.

In addition to his huge dealings in surplus grain storage and cotton allotment transfers, Estes built up a flimsy pyramid in the liquid fertilizer business, trying to corner the market in West Texas by cutting prices below cost.

The fertilizer was anhydrous ammonia, use of which has become a way of life for farmers in sausage-shaped 1,000-gallon tanks, mounted on wheels for easy movement.

Estes bought his fertilizer from Commercial Solvents, assigning the proceeds from his government grain storage contracts as payment. The New York firm got more than $7 million in these government payments, but it was not enough to square the account.

The bankrupt Estes still owes Commercial Solvents $5.7 million.

To get operating cash, Estes worked out a scheme of discounting mortgages on the fertilizer tanks, but most of the tanks did not exist. This led to his indictment on fraud charges.

Commercial Solvents was named in a civil antitrust suit filed against Estes by the state of Texas, on the ground that its extension of millions of dollars in credit to Estes enabled him to run competitors out of business and corner the market by selling below cost.

One of the oddest byproducts of the Estes case came into the news again Tuesday.

It was disclosed that Mark K. Jones, 51-year-old agriculture department secretary, has asked

Expedite Plan For St. Clair, State Advises

The State Highway Department at Columbus asked the city today to "proceed as quickly as possible" on completion of detailed plans for a new concrete roadway on outer St. Clair Ave., which means the project will be ready for a call for contractors' bids by late September or early October.

The letter to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet from the department's central office was signed by Guy Neeper, deputy director for planning and programming.

By its action today, the state accepted data submitted by the city in mid-May covering operation of the new facility and proposed parking regulations. At that time, the project had been approved for programming as a 36-foot roadway by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads.

The improvement will stretch from Princeton Ave. to the city limits. Its total length is 8,500 feet and the cost has been estimated at approximately $400,000. The federal agency will pay 50 per cent of the cost.

The detailed plans are being prepared by Glaus, Pyle & Schomer, a Youngstown consulting engineering firm retained by the city nearly a year ago.

Neeper's letter said that construction plans should be submitted at least two months before contractor's bids will be sought.

City Engineer George S. Bloomgren estimated that construction plans can be completed by the first week of July. That means the state probably could let a contract in late September or early October, he explained.

About a year ago, the federal agency added St. Clair to the federal aid secondary system of highways, guaranteeing the U. S. will pay 50 per cent of the cost. Negotiations for the project have been under way for about two and a half years.

Replies To Soviet Premier

Kennedy Informs Mr. K Laos Very Encouraging

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Soviet Premier Khrushchev today that the formation of a coalition government in Laos is very encouraging.

Kennedy replied to a message from Khrushchev in which the Soviet leader said the agreement on a coalition government could serve as a guide to the solution of other problems between East and West.

"The formation of this government of national unity under Prince Souvanna Phouma marks a milestone in the sustained efforts which have been put forward toward this end, especially since our meeting in Vienna," Kennedy told Khrushchev.

"It is equally important that we should now press forward, with our associates in the Geneva conference, to complete these arrangements and to work closely together in their execution. We must continue also to do our best to persuade all concerned in Laos to work together to this same end.

"It is very important that no untoward actions anywhere be allowed to disrupt the progress which has been made."

Kennedy agreed with Khrushchev that continued progress in a settlement of the Laotian problem can be helpful in leading toward the resolution of other international difficulties.

"If together we can help in the establishment of an independent and neutral Laos, securely sustained in this status through time, this accomplishment will surely have a significant and positive effect far beyond the borders of Laos," Kennedy said in his message.

"You can count on the continued and energetic efforts of the government of the United States toward that end."

Kennedy's reply to Khrushchev's message was dated June 12 and was made public by the White House this morning.

That the little Southeast Asian country should be independent and neutral, not a cause for East-West conflict, is one point on which Kennedy and Khrushchev have agreed since they met in Vienna a year ago. But only now are the rival neutralist, pro-Western and pro-Communist Laotian princes settling on a nationwide government deemed needed to remove their land from the cold war.

Cool Spell Follows Series Of Showers

Heavy showers Tuesday afternoon brought cooler temperatures that will last through tonight. Thursday will be sunny and warmer.

The showers, heavy at times, apparently were localized as the Stratton Dam reported only 0.05 inch of precipitation while the city area was getting an estimated third of an inch of much needed moisture.

The rain tumbled temperatures almost 15 degrees, from an afternoon mark of 78 to 64 in mid-evening. Today's high will be a coolish 65 to 73 and tonight's low 46 to 52.

Chicago Street Gangs Show Up At 'Crusade For Christ'

CHICAGO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham's "Crusade for Christ" held a youth session Tuesday night and about 200 teen-agers which crusade leaders said were members of street gangs showed up.

Graham, addressing the 14th meeting of his 19 - day Chicago crusade, said the 200 teen-agers were his special guests. Several young girls were included in the group.

After Graham's sermon, several dozen among the 200 were in the 1,265 persons who came forward to make "decisions for Christ." Crusade officials said that 10,565 persons have now made such decisions during the first 14 rallies.

McCormick Place officials estimated Tuesday night's crowd at 36,000, raising the attendance for the crusade to 446,000. Tte crusade ends Sunday with a giant rally in Soldier Field.

Graham, speaking on juvenile delinquency, told the audience:

"A million policemen and a thousand social centers cannot cure the problem of juvenile delinquency. There is nothing that will take the place of mother and dad teaching their sons and daughters the ten commandments and the sermon on the mount."

One of the causes, he said, "is that there are too many mothers who have become breadwinners instead of homemakers. Many parents have done wrong," he said "by failing to perform one function of life—making a home for their children."

Man Who Cut Barges Freed

A Federal Court jury Tuesday in Pittsburgh acquitted Sam Marunich, 53, of Mt. Washington, of charges that he cut loose three barges on the Ohio River near East Liverpool Feb. 28, 1961.

Marunich was arrested by the FBI. They said Marunich, former captain of th etowboat Iron captain of the towboat Iron City, was discharged by the Iron City Sand and Gravel Co. five days before the barges were cut loose.

The barges were tied up at Industry. One of them floated 38 miles down the Ohio River and sank. Two others were located near East Liverpool. Damage was estimated between $30,000 and $40,000.

During the trial before Judge Edward Dumbauld, Marunich now unemployed, denied he had cut loose the barges. On the stand Marunich said he lied when he told that FBI that he had sent the company - owned barges adrift.

Man Who Cut Barges Freed

A Federal Court jury Tuesday in Pittsburgh acquitted Sam Marunich, 53, of Mt. Washington, of charges that he cut loose three barges on the Ohio River near East Liverpool Feb. 28, 1961.

Marunich was arrested by the FBI. They said Marunich, former captain of th etowboat Iron captain of the towboat Iron City, was discharged by the Iron City Sand and Gravel Co. five days before the barges were cut loose.

The barges were tied up at Industry. One of them floated 38 miles down the Ohio River and sank. Two others were located near East Liverpool. Damage was estimated between $30,000 and $40,000.

During the trial before Judge Edward Dumbauld, Marunich now unemployed, denied he had cut loose the barges. On the stand Marunich said he lied when he told that FBI that he had sent the company - owned barges adrift.

What Helps Freedom

When it is taken into consideration that the 1962 Joint Committee on Republican Principles, which produced a party "position paper" last week was composed of 12 members of Congress and thereafter approved by Republican caucauses of House and Senate members, a remarkable job was done. Congressional opinion among Republicans is not divided, as it is among the Democrats.

Some of the things on which Republicans are in substantial agreement will make their Democratic counterparts writhe. On medical care, for example, the Joint Committee recommends the retention of voluntary insurance with "effective" tax relief for medical and hospital insurance. This underwrites the proposal by Rep. Frank T. Bow of the 16th district as official party policy, just as Chairman William E. Miller of the Republican National Committee previously had recommended it should be. On this issue the party's position now is clear.

Its position is equally clear on over-dependence on the United Nations with the world's insoluble problems would destroy it.

"To ask this organization to perform tasks it is incapable of performing is not supporting the United Nations," says the Joint Committee, which then goes on to propose proportional representation in the General Assembly, both as to population and contributions relative to population.

ON STILL another point made last week by Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche with strong bipartisan support the Republican position is unusually clear: "The American program of economic aid must be recast so that it effectively serves the cause of freedom, without waste and within the sensible limits of careful priorities. Demands for assistance by those who hang back from the stuggle between freedom and slavery do not deserve the high priority that the pressing needs of freedom's friesnds should have."

Freedom. This word and thought set the theme for this significant partisian document—freedom from government.

Thus has the issue been joined more squarely than ever before between the two parties. The Democratic party has put full stress since the second term of Franklin D. Roosevelt on freedom from certain vaguely defined conditions—want, fear etc.

The Demoncratic credo is that government exists for the manipulation of circumstances to make people grateful to it and its manipulators—a welfare state.

The Republican credo as stated in the report by the 1962 Joint Committee on Republican Principle is that the people should look to government only for the regulation of frictions and disputes that arise when the people are taking care of themselves.

REPUBLICANS have made it clearer than it ever has been made in any party document that they do not look to government for the solution of any problems or the administration of any programs not traditionally in the province of government.

This statement sums up the Republican creed:

"Republicans understand the workings of a free competitive economy. The present administration does not. We hold that American labor, business, industry, science and agriculture get the jobs done, pay the wages and create the rising standard of living . . .

"Republicans demand high-powered deeds, not high-sounding words. We want and expect the cause of freedom to win."

Fly The Flag

It's not in the cards for people who displayed no flags on Memorial Day and will display none on Independence Day to have a change of heart on Flag Day.

But even if few flags are displayed, Flag Day's history shouldn't be ignored.

The Second Continental Congress at Philadelphia adopted a resolution offered by its Marine Committee that the flag of the United States should be 13 stripes, alternate red and white, with 13 stars in a blue field representing a new constellation.

Flag Day stemmed from that—an event of June 14, 1777.

On July 4, 1818, Congress ordered that the stars should be increased to 20 and that new ones should be added thereafter whenever a new state was added.

Flag Day commemorates the date of June 14 when the flag was adopted officially. In an era when our national origins tend to be taken for granted it seems quaint, almost incredible, that Americans once made a special point of showing the nation's colors on Flag Day. It was as if they were reasserting their defiance of Great Britain by waving the symbol of their independence.

If there's a flag handy and no reason to stop you, celebrate Flag Day again this year. Why not enjoy it? It's your country and your flag.

Parks And Parking

Scenic and water attractions of Beaver Creek have proven to be no easy burden for Fredericktown residents to bear in recent years.

The problem of congested parking by weekend visitors has on several occasions reached the hazardous point at which traffic-blocked streets would have prevented fire trucks and emergency vehicles from reaching trouble spots.

At a time when backers of the development of Beaver Creek as an enlarged park area are seeking to attract interest to the valley, difficulties of parking pose a conflicting need to reduce traffic to many creek areas.

Where to place an automobile is not just a problem for crowded city streets. It can be a serious difficulty in small villages and woodlands as well. Those community and governmental leaders responsible for planning for the increasing use of park and recreation areas face a major problem in providing just for the auto, let alone the campers, swimmers, boaters and spectators.

The Name's The Same

Proposals to change West Virginia's name to Lincoln are receiving little encouragement at Charleston and in the hills and mountains for which the state is noted.

Gov. Barron declared Tuesday he would not favor the name change as recommended by Charles Hodel of Beckley, newspaper publisher and chairman of the Centennial Commission, and would not call a special session of the legislature.

"I love the name of West Viriginia and all the heritage and tradition that it stands for," the governor said. Hodel had suggested the name change to help avoid confusion of West Virginia and Virginia, among other things.

Miss Callie Tsapis, Hancock County House of Delegates member, also has added her voice to opposition to the change, citing tradition.

West Virginia has many historical and cultural ties with Dominion State, but her rugged independence and loyalty to the United States is firmly expressed in the prefix "West" which the state adopted when it split from the mother state in the crises of Civil War in 1863.

Regardless of the honor and reverence attached to the name of Lincoln, we feel it has little chance of acceptance as would a proposal that Ohio change its name to McKinley or Pennsylvania to Buchanan.

Maybe Next Year

By Truman Twill

The honorary degrees have been ladled out again in all the places where they will do the most good. I was passed over.

Nothing I can do, say, or think will add one buck to any institutional building fund or tickle the fancy of the trustees of any financial foundation.

I cannot contribute a jot or tittle to the academic prestige of a college or university—and if the reader doesn't know it, "Jot or tittle" is from Matthew 5:18. I didn't know it, which is one more reason I never shall grace a commencement platform or program.

Neither can I "make the welkin ring" with oratorical cliches—and that is from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." The finest day I ever lived, which was during the latter part of the Coolidge administration, I could not make a speech worth listening to.

There isn't the slightest possibility I'll make enough money in newspaper business to endow anything. In the whole family tree of the Twills, even going out on the smallest branches, there isn't a moneybag anywhere.

Neither am I on the trail of anything big in science, literature, the lively arts or the dull arts. Whatever chance I ever might have had to ennoble the stage vanished the night I muffed my cue as the roomer who doesn't get knocked off in "Lavender and Old Lace."

Although I think I might have been able to make my way in politics if I'd been handsome and outgoing, instead of ugly and ingoing, I never have sought or held public office and am in no position to qualify for an honorary degree on that score.

Fact is, I cannot think of anything that possibly could be said to my credit in those graceful, witty pieces they make up to show about recipients of honorary degrees. I couldn't even qualify for that remark the pastor made about the deceased he had known only by reputation: "I am told he was a good smoker."

Tobacco makes me queasy. So that's out. It's a morale-shattering thing to know that in a vast land that hands out honorary degrees like gold stars in Sunday school you can't make the grade. But that's how it is for millions of us.

Oh that we could bring in a gusher at Rosy Fingered Dawn!

Or that some snoop would discover I am in the direct line of descendant from someone notable.

Or that some fluke would enable me to invent a cuff link that could be installed without contortions.

Or that for any reason I could qualify for an honorary degree, because the way they hand 'em out a fellow who lacks one feels left out.

Oh well, maybe next year.

Verkhoyansk, in Siberia, claims the distinction of being the coldest inhabited spot in the world — with recorded temperatures of as low as 90 degrees below zero.

Poland Puts Profit Over Principle

By Victor Riesel

Whenever there's a profit in it, the Soviet bloc leaders swiftly and easily forget their self-inflicted pain over Franco Spain. There are, for example, those class-conscious leaders of Communist Poland. They are so sensitive over our relations with Madrid. But they are not so sensitive when it comes to making zlotys from the generalissimo. When, during the recent strike of the Asturian miners, Spain ran short of coal—Warsaw eased Madrid's needs.

Victor Riesel

Vast tonnage of coal was loaded aboard freighters in the Polish harbor of Gdynia. They steamed out to Spain's Northwestern Asturian port of Gijon.

This is Franco's busiest coal port. As the ships sailed, more and more vessels were loaded in Gdynia. The Poles intended to create a water-born conveyor belt.

But when the first two freighters arrived in Gijon, the Spanish dockers respected the strike. They refused to unload.

Did the Communist Poles pick up steam and go back to their proletarian haven? Did they respect the picket line? By Karl Marx' beard, they did not.

The Communist crews were ordered to crack that line. They did. Franco's Spain got its Polish coal.

SUPPOSE American owners and American crews had done that. Khrushchev would have walked into some reception and denounced us as dirty fascists making dirty dollars. But zlotys are different.

However, U.S. coal operators don't get as much chance as they used to to ship coal to Spain these days. The Polish Communist leaders are undercutting us. We aid them. They underprice us. Our coal in Virginia and West Virginia stays in stockpiles. Our coaldiggers become human stockpiles.

This has been developing for some time. The latest statistics I have reveal that the Poles have been doing quite a business with the Spaniards. In 1961, they signed a pact calling for 80,000 tons of coal to be delivered by Warsaw.

IN A SPEECH before the Ladies Garment Workers' Union the other week, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, blasted Poland. There has been no sound out of Warsaw. Perhaps Polish leader Gomulka is too busy with other matters of international trade.

He has a problem with our U.S. Senate. And merely to complicate that problem and strain his dialectics, I hereby report on Poland's trade with none other than Fidel Castro of Cuba — one of our neighbors.

This report comes at a moment when Poland's intermediaries are telling our State Department intermediaries that it would not sit well with Polish efforts at neutrality if we cut off aid and food.

Poland would need less aid in the form of food and special machinery if Warsaw were not sending millions of dollars worth of food and special machinery to Cuba.

I point to the Havana-Warsaw pact covering $21 million. It was signed in Warsaw Dec. 22, 1960.

FIRST the agreement calls for Poland to ship capital goods to Cuba. This means, the small print says, electro-technical equipment. Also mining machinery. Now, the only pits the Cubans can dig into are those which Dr. Castro has "intervened" away from us. Without benefit of payment, of course.

So we aid Poland. The Poles aid the Fidelistas in mining the property the Communists expropriated from us. I presume it would irritate Castro, Gomulka and Co. if I said "stole" from us.

There's more. The Poles say they need food. Yet they are dispatching agricultural machinery to Castro. Also building machinery. Also machine tools and transport equipment. On the list is "consumer durables"—meaning, radios and gas stoves. The Polish people could use those, too.

If the good folks of Poland need food from us, why is Poland, this very minute shipping "agricultural produce and foodstuffs, including: bacon, potatoes, flour and casein (a protein milk product)."

So here we are. We supply Poland. Its leaders deprive its own people and Warsaw supplies Cuba.

This Polish neutrality is mighty strange. And it comes at a mighty high price for us. Let's at least insist they feed their own people first.

Letters To The Editor

This letter relates to a trip Mrs. Stewart and I made one evening last week. Returning from visiting the resting place of our parents in beautifully - maintained Springhill Cemetery, we noticed at 10th St. and Buckeye Ave. evidence of improvement on Buckeye Ave.

My wife expressed a desire to again view some familiar scenes of her girlhood days, so we turned left onto Buckeye and to our utter amazement found a street you could drive on, the bumps, ruts and stones having given way to a smooth, easily-traveled thoroughfare. And we continued through to 3rd and Lisbon Sts.

What I have been leading up to is a commendation to Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, and his workmen on the unbelievable improvement that has been made on Buckeye Ave. But this is not all. A fear, or a dread of driving Commerce St. between 9th and 15th Sts. has been eliminated by the splendid way this street has been marked off.

And, one other thing that we, whose property fronts on heavily-traveled thoroughfares, like Wells Ave., Main St. and Clark Ave., appreciate is the absence of dirt and dust, the result of Mr. Baldasare's plans and the efficient operation of the city's cleaning equipment by the ever congenial Lee Martin.

Rather an oddity, won't you say. A letter of commendation from one of only four Republicans in the present administration, to a Democratic service director. But two of the many lessons I have learned in my life are the folly of placing party loyalty ahead of community pride and welfare and the wisdom of giving credit where credit is deserved. Am I correct in believing there are those of our present administration who could serve better the community they represent by employing this channel of thought?

Kennedy Seen Ignoring Business Fear

Confession of error may be good for the soul — but this doesn't seem to include the soul of the politician. President Kennedy is sensitive to the criticism that his administration is against business. But it is evident he has either failed to read or prefers to ignore the basic reasons why businessmen are fearful and distrustful.

David Lawrence

If the President had said in his speech at Yale this week that he had made a mistake — that he would not go beyond the law and seek to punish those who disagree with him, if he had cleared the air and acknowledged that, until Congress passes a law fixing wages and prices, the administration has no right to exert the kind of pressure used in the steel controversy—American businessmen would breathe easier today, the stock market would rise rapidly, and America would be traveling the road that leads to recovery and prosperity.

Instead, the Monday speech was in a sense defiant and scornful of critics. The President said the recent "dialogue" between business and government is "clogged by illusion and platitude and fails to reflect the true realities of contemporary American society."

The President, moreover, included an ambiguous threat when he said:

"If a contest in angry argument were forced upon it, no administration could shrink from response, and history does not suggest that American presidents are totally without resources in an engagement forced upon them because of hostility in one section of the society."

SINCE WHEN in free America is debate taboo? What does all this mean? Is it a warning that the views of the man in the White House must be treated gently lest he get mad and let loose more reprisals?

That paragraph in the speech will produce its own dialogue for a long time to come.

The President in his speech at Yale denounced as a "myth" the idea that federal deficits are inflationary. He decried criticism of unsound fiscal policy and declared that an "honest assessment plainly requires a more sophisticated view than the cliche that deficits are inflationary.

The presidential speech writers keep calling for a more "sophisticated" view of things, but they haven't looked up the original dictionary meaning of "sophisticated," which sometimes is defined as "artful" and sometimes as "deceptive."

The President has used the word "sophisticated" a dozen times in recent speeches in a manner somewhat disdainful of those who disagree with him.

MR. KENNEDY shows evidence of resentment because businessmen still can't understand his tactics in the steel controversy. For he proceeded therein without law when he endeavored to intimidate the business managements of American industry in the making of prices.

He still declares he was merely acting in the "public interest" but the national economy hasn't been the same since. It has wondered how many FBI agents are lurking around at midnight, how many federal grand juries are being secretly convened, and when or whether business can resume its normal function of setting prices that will cover increased wage costs and bring a fair profit.

"What we need," said the President farther on in his speech "is not more labels and more cliches, but more basic discussion of the sophisticated and technical questions involved in keeping our mighty economic machine moving steadily ahead. . . .

"It is true — and of high importance — that the prosperity of this country depends on assurance that all major elements within it will live up to their responsibilities. If business were to neglect its obligations to the public; if labor were blind to all public responsibility; above all, if government were to abandon its obvious — and statutory —duty of watchful concern for our economic health — if any of these things should happen, then confidence might well be weakened, and the danger of stagnation would increase. This is the true issue of confidence."

WHAT DID happen recently to weaken confidence? The President cracked down on business but not on labor.

Every president in recent years has made a declaration equally general in phraseology as the last paragraph of the above quotation from Mr. Kennedy's speech.

The people haven't exactly tired of such "platitudes," but they do want government itself to obey some of them and to pay heed to the lessons of history. These reveal that a government which continually spends more than it takes in and a government that attempts in a one-sided way to control by artificial measures the workings of the national economy leads that same economy sooner or later into the ditch of recession or depression.

The Lost Leaders

By Marguerite Higgins

It would be overstating it to say that there is a crisis of confidence between the nation's senior military leaders, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and President Kennedy.

The current crisis concerns U.S. military maneuvers in Laos. But the break between the White House and the Pentagon goes back to the Cuban fiasco.

History in due course cannot help but remark that in the Cuban affair a crisis of confidence arose because of a complete breakdown in the communication of ideas.

As is now known, the joint chiefs predicated their approval of the Cuban invasion on a given set of hard and fast conditions and assumptions. They failed — alas—to make it clear to President Kennedy that these conditions—including the planned air strike by U.S. Navy planes—were so essential that without them the Cuban operation was doomed to fail.

THEN WHEN the air strike was called off at the last minute, the joint chiefs, to quote a non-military source, "reacted like a doctor who has been told in the middle of a serious operation that his supply of oxygen had been cut off."

This was but one of many misunderstandings, including the fact that during the last frantic days before Cuba the joint chiefs stayed silent out of deference and awe of the presidency.

The upshot was that the President felt let down and the military, to quote one young officer "felt that the ground had been cut out from under us . . . that we were the scapegoats." And all this is at the root of White House-Pentagon tension now.

A wise retired Army general of vast renown and much experience in the ways of presidents says: "The strain between the White House and the top military still persists to some degree and unfortunately the country may pay for it with the loss of Laos which would be a tragedy—not because of Laos per se—but because under these conditions each retreat just makes the inevitable confrontation that much costlier.

"I know that slowness of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to get involved in Laos has brought the charge from some quarters that the military have lost their guts.

"As a military man, I would agree that the military are being somewhat gutless about Laos but I know the reason. The reason is that they are fearful that in Laos, as in Cuba, they would have the ground cut out from under them.

BUT UNDERSTANDING the military's reasons does not keep them in the global view from being accused of using the wrong reasons at the wrong time.

"In the first place Laos is not Cuba, if for no other reason than the fact that in Cuba our side started the fighting and in Laos the Reds started the fighting.

"In the second place, there was the commitment of a clandestine force of Cubans.

"In the third place, President Kennedy has learned a lot from the Cuban episode.

"Also," the general added, "it is wrong to say that military does not want to fight in Laos. They know in their minds that Laos is geographically vital and that we must fight rather than give up.

"The trouble is—in overreacting to Cuba—the military are asking for impossible guarantees in advance from President Kennedy in terms of men and resources. The truth is that it is doubtful that America would need more than two divisions in Laos properly . . ."

At a time when backers of the development of Beaver Creek as an enlarged park area are seeking to attract interest to the valley, difficulties of parking pose a conflicting need to reduce traffic to many creek areas.

Where to place an automobile is not just a problem for crowded city streets. It can be a serious difficulty in small villages and woodlands as well. Those community and governmental leaders responsible for planning for the increasing use of park and recreation areas face a major problem in providing just for the auto, let alone the campers, swimmers, boaters and spectators.

The Name's The Same

Proposals to change West Virginia's name to Lincoln are receiving little encouragement at Charleston and in the hills and mountains for which the state is noted.

Gov. Barron declared Tuesday he would not favor the name change as recommended by Charles Hodel of Beckley, newspaper publisher and chairman of the Centennial Commission, and would not call a special session of the legislature.

"I love the name of West Viriginia and all the heritage and tradition that it stands for," the governor said. Hodel had suggested the name change to help avoid confusion of West Virginia and Virginia, among other things.

Miss Callie Tsapis, Hancock County House of Delegates member, also has added her voice to opposition to the change, citing tradition.

West Virginia has many historical and cultural ties with Dominion State, but her rugged independence and loyalty to the United States is firmly expressed in the prefix "West" which the state adopted when it split from the mother state in the crises of Civil War in 1863.

Regardless of the honor and reverence attached to the name of Lincoln, we feel it has little chance of acceptance as would a proposal that Ohio change its name to McKinley or Pennsylvania to Buchanan.

Maybe Next Year

By Truman Twill

The honorary degrees have been ladled out again in all the places where they will do the most good. I was passed over.

Nothing I can do, say, or think will add one buck to any institutional building fund or tickle the fancy of the trustees of any financial foundation.

I cannot contribute a jot or tittle to the academic prestige of a college or university—and if the reader doesn't know it, "Jot or tittle" is from Matthew 5:18. I didn't know it, which is one more reason I never shall grace a commencement platform or program.

Neither can I "make the welkin ring" with oratorical cliches—and that is from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." The finest day I ever lived, which was during the latter part of the Coolidge administration, I could not make a speech worth listening to.

There isn't the slightest possibility I'll make enough money in newspaper business to endow anything. In the whole family tree of the Twills, even going out on the smallest branches, there isn't a moneybag anywhere.

Neither am I on the trail of anything big in science, literature, the lively arts or the dull arts. Whatever chance I ever might have had to ennoble the stage vanished the night I muffed my cue as the roomer who doesn't get knocked off in "Lavender and Old Lace."

Although I think I might have been able to make my way in politics if I'd been handsome and outgoing, instead of ugly and ingoing, I never have sought or held public office and am in no position to qualify for an honorary degree on that score.

Fact is, I cannot think of anything that possibly could be said to my credit in those graceful, witty pieces they make up to show about recipients of honorary degrees. I couldn't even qualify for that remark the pastor made about the deceased he had known only by reputation: "I am told he was a good smoker."

Tobacco makes me queasy. So that's out. It's a morale-shattering thing to know that in a vast land that hands out honorary degrees like gold stars in Sunday school you can't make the grade. But that's how it is for millions of us.

Oh that we could bring in a gusher at Rosy Fingered Dawn!

Or that some snoop would discover I am in the direct line of descendant from someone notable.

Or that some fluke would enable me to invent a cuff link that could be installed without contortions.

Or that for any reason I could qualify for an honorary degree, because the way they hand 'em out a fellow who lacks one feels left out.

Oh well, maybe next year.

Poland Puts Profit Over Principle

By Victor Riesel

Whenever there's a profit in it, the Soviet bloc leaders swiftly and easily forget their self-inflicted pain over Franco Spain. There are, for example, those class-conscious leaders of Communist Poland. They are so sensitive over our relations with Madrid. But they are not so sensitive when it comes to making zlotys from the generalissimo. When, during the recent strike of the Asturian miners, Spain ran short of coal—Warsaw eased Madrid's needs.

Victor Riesel

Vast tonnage of coal was loaded aboard freighters in the Polish harbor of Gdynia. They steamed out to Spain's Northwestern Asturian port of Gijon.

This is Franco's busiest coal port. As the ships sailed, more and more vessels were loaded in Gdynia. The Poles intended to create a water-born conveyor belt.

But when the first two freighters arrived in Gijon, the Spanish dockers respected the strike. They refused to unload.

Did the Communist Poles pick up steam and go back to their proletarian haven? Did they respect the picket line? By Karl Marx' beard, they did not.

The Communist crews were ordered to crack that line. They did. Franco's Spain got its Polish coal.

SUPPOSE American owners and American crews had done that. Khrushchev would have walked into some reception and denounced us as dirty fascists making dirty dollars. But zlotys are different.

However, U.S. coal operators don't get as much chance as they used to to ship coal to Spain these days. The Polish Communist leaders are undercutting us. We aid them. They underprice us. Our coal in Virginia and West Virginia stays in stockpiles. Our coaldiggers become human stockpiles.

This has been developing for some time. The latest statistics I have reveal that the Poles have been doing quite a business with the Spaniards. In 1961, they signed a pact calling for 80,000 tons of coal to be delivered by Warsaw.

IN A SPEECH before the Ladies Garment Workers' Union the other week, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, blasted Poland. There has been no sound out of Warsaw. Perhaps Polish leader Gomulka is too busy with other matters of international trade.

He has a problem with our U.S. Senate. And merely to complicate that problem and strain his dialectics, I hereby report on Poland's trade with none other than Fidel Castro of Cuba — one of our neighbors.

This report comes at a moment when Poland's intermediaries are telling our State Department intermediaries that it would not sit well with Polish efforts at neutrality if we cut off aid and food.

Poland would need less aid in the form of food and special machinery if Warsaw were not sending millions of dollars worth of food and special machinery to Cuba.

I point to the Havana-Warsaw pact covering $21 million. It was signed in Warsaw Dec. 22, 1960.

FIRST the agreement calls for Poland to ship capital goods to Cuba. This means, the small print says, electro-technical equipment. Also mining machinery. Now, the only pits the Cubans can dig into are those which Dr. Castro has "intervened" away from us. Without benefit of payment, of course.

So we aid Poland. The Poles aid the Fidelistas in mining the property the Communists expropriated from us. I presume it would irritate Castro, Gomulka and Co. if I said "stole" from us.

There's more. The Poles say they need food. Yet they are dispatching agricultural machinery to Castro. Also building machinery. Also machine tools and transport equipment. On the list is "consumer durables"—meaning, radios and gas stoves. The Polish people could use those, too.

If the good folks of Poland need food from us, why is Poland, this very minute shipping "agricultural produce and foodstuffs, including: bacon, potatoes, flour and casein (a protein milk product)."

So here we are. We supply Poland. Its leaders deprive its own people and Warsaw supplies Cuba.

This Polish neutrality is mighty strange. And it comes at a mighty high price for us. Let's at least insist they feed their own people first.

Letters To The Editor

This letter relates to a trip Mrs. Stewart and I made one evening last week. Returning from visiting the resting place of our parents in beautifully - maintained Springhill Cemetery, we noticed at 10th St. and Buckeye Ave. evidence of improvement on Buckeye Ave.

My wife expressed a desire to again view some familiar scenes of her girlhood days, so we turned left onto Buckeye and to our utter amazement found a street you could drive on, the bumps, ruts and stones having given way to a smooth, easily-traveled thoroughfare. And we continued through to 3rd and Lisbon Sts.

What I have been leading up to is a commendation to Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, and his workmen on the unbelievable improvement that has been made on Buckeye Ave. But this is not all. A fear, or a dread of driving Commerce St. between 9th and 15th Sts. has been eliminated by the splendid way this street has been marked off.

And, one other thing that we, whose property fronts on heavily-traveled thoroughfares, like Wells Ave., Main St. and Clark Ave., appreciate is the absence of dirt and dust, the result of Mr. Baldasare's plans and the efficient operation of the city's cleaning equipment by the ever congenial Lee Martin.

Rather an oddity, won't you say. A letter of commendation from one of only four Republicans in the present administration, to a Democratic service director. But two of the many lessons I have learned in my life are the folly of placing party loyalty ahead of community pride and welfare and the wisdom of giving credit where credit is deserved. Am I correct in believing there are those of our present administration who could serve better the community they represent by employing this channel of thought?

Issue Still Clouded

Kennedy Seen Ignoring Business Fear

Confession of error may be good for the soul — but this doesn't seem to include the soul of the politician. President Kennedy is sensitive to the criticism that his administration is against business. But it is evident he has either failed to read or prefers to ignore the basic reasons why businessmen are fearful and distrustful.

David Lawrence

If the President had said in his speech at Yale this week that he had made a mistake — that he would not go beyond the law and seek to punish those who disagree with him, if he had cleared the air and acknowledged that, until Congress passes a law fixing wages and prices, the administration has no right to exert the kind of pressure used in the steel controversy—American businessmen would breathe easier today, the stock market would rise rapidly, and America would be traveling the road that leads to recovery and prosperity.

Instead, the Monday speech was in a sense defiant and scornful of critics. The President said the recent "dialogue" between business and government is "clogged by illusion and platitude and fails to reflect the true realities of contemporary American society."

The President, moreover, included an ambiguous threat when he said:

"If a contest in angry argument were forced upon it, no administration could shrink from response, and history does not suggest that American presidents are totally without resources in an engagement forced upon them because of hostility in one section of the society."

SINCE WHEN in free America is debate taboo? What does all this mean? Is it a warning that the views of the man in the White House must be treated gently lest he get mad and let loose more reprisals?

That paragraph in the speech will produce its own dialogue for a long time to come.

The President in his speech at Yale denounced as a "myth" the idea that federal deficits are inflationary. He decried criticism of unsound fiscal policy and declared that an "honest assessment plainly requires a more sophisticated view than the cliche that deficits are inflationary.

The presidential speech writers keep calling for a more "sophisticated" view of things, but they haven't looked up the original dictionary meaning of "sophisticated," which sometimes is defined as "artful" and sometimes as "deceptive."

The President has used the word "sophisticated" a dozen times in recent speeches in a manner somewhat disdainful of those who disagree with him.

MR. KENNEDY shows evidence of resentment because businessmen still can't understand his tactics in the steel controversy. For he proceeded therein without law when he endeavored to intimidate the business managements of American industry in the making of prices.

He still declares he was merely acting in the "public interest" but the national economy hasn't been the same since. It has wondered how many FBI agents are lurking around at midnight, how many federal grand juries are being secretly convened, and when or whether business can resume its normal function of setting prices that will cover increased wage costs and bring a fair profit.

"What we need," said the President farther on in his speech "is not more labels and more cliches, but more basic discussion of the sophisticated and technical questions involved in keeping our mighty economic machine moving steadily ahead. . . .

"It is true — and of high importance — that the prosperity of this country depends on assurance that all major elements within it will live up to their responsibilities. If business were to neglect its obligations to the public; if labor were blind to all public responsibility; above all, if government were to abandon its obvious — and statutory —duty of watchful concern for our economic health — if any of these things should happen, then confidence might well be weakened, and the danger of stagnation would increase. This is the true issue of confidence."

WHAT DID happen recently to weaken confidence? The President cracked down on business but not on labor.

Every president in recent years has made a declaration equally general in phraseology as the last paragraph of the above quotation from Mr. Kennedy's speech.

The people haven't exactly tired of such "platitudes," but they do want government itself to obey some of them and to pay heed to the lessons of history. These reveal that a government which continually spends more than it takes in and a government that attempts in a one-sided way to control by artificial measures the workings of the national economy leads that same economy sooner or later into the ditch of recession or depression.

The Lost Leaders

By Marguerite Higgins

It would be overstating it to say that there is a crisis of confidence between the nation's senior military leaders, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and President Kennedy.

The current crisis concerns U.S. military maneuvers in Laos. But the break between the White House and the Pentagon goes back to the Cuban fiasco.

History in due course cannot help but remark that in the Cuban affair a crisis of confidence arose because of a complete breakdown in the communication of ideas.

As is now known, the joint chiefs predicated their approval of the Cuban invasion on a given set of hard and fast conditions and assumptions. They failed — alas—to make it clear to President Kennedy that these conditions—including the planned air strike by U.S. Navy planes—were so essential that without them the Cuban operation was doomed to fail.

THEN WHEN the air strike was called off at the last minute, the joint chiefs, to quote a non-military source, "reacted like a doctor who has been told in the middle of a serious operation that his supply of oxygen had been cut off."

This was but one of many misunderstandings, including the fact that during the last frantic days before Cuba the joint chiefs stayed silent out of deference and awe of the presidency.

The upshot was that the President felt let down and the military, to quote one young officer "felt that the ground had been cut out from under us . . . that we were the scapegoats." And all this is at the root of White House-Pentagon tension now.

A wise retired Army general of vast renown and much experience in the ways of presidents says: "The strain between the White House and the top military still persists to some degree and unfortunately the country may pay for it with the loss of Laos which would be a tragedy—not because of Laos per se—but because under these conditions each retreat just makes the inevitable confrontation that much costlier.

"I know that slowness of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to get involved in Laos has brought the charge from some quarters that the military have lost their guts.

"As a military man, I would agree that the military are being somewhat gutless about Laos but I know the reason. The reason is that they are fearful that in Laos, as in Cuba, they would have the ground cut out from under them.

BUT UNDERSTANDING the military's reasons does not keep them in the global view from being accused of using the wrong reasons at the wrong time.

"In the first place Laos is not Cuba, if for no other reason than the fact that in Cuba our side started the fighting and in Laos the Reds started the fighting.

"In the second place, there was the commitment of a clandestine force of Cubans.

"In the third place, President Kennedy has learned a lot from the Cuban episode.

"Also," the general added, "it is wrong to say that military does not want to fight in Laos. They know in their minds that Laos is geographically vital and that we must fight rather than give up.

"The trouble is—in overreacting to Cuba—the military are asking for impossible guarantees in advance from President Kennedy in terms of men and resources. The truth is that it is doubtful that America would need more than two divisions in Laos properly . . ."

Woman Driver Fined On Minister's Charge

SALINEVILLE — A 24-year-old woman motorist was fined for reckless operation Tuesday night by Mayor Stanley Fitch on a complaint signed by Gerald Finnie of Jefferson St., Christian Church minister.

Miss Carole Mones of Monroeville Rd. was fined $25 and costs—with $20 of the fine suspended—on the charge filed by Finnie, who said she passed on the crest of a hill on Jefferson St. Friday in an area where a number of children were playing.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Donald E. Culp, 19, of Columbiana R. D. forfeited a $15 appearance bond Tuesday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without headlights or taillights. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Youth In Beer Sale Posts Bond

A Chester youth charged with selling non-intoxicating beer to minors posted $500 bond for a hearing Friday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland, who also fined two drivers for traffic violations Tuesday.

James Dennis, 19, posted bond for the hearing. He was cited at the Laurel Hill Tavern in Chester by Hancock County sheriff's deputies. Licensee is his father, Earl Dennis.

Mike Milenissis of George's Restaurant in Chester is slated for a hearing Friday on a similar charge.

Squire Herron fined Joseph S. Deletka, 26, of Cleveland $100 and costs on a charge of reckless driving filed by Police Chief William Webster of New Cumberland Tuesday night. Clarence Ritchie, 34, of R. D. 2, was fined $25 and costs for hazardous driving. He was cited by sheriff's deputies.

West Virginia Mine Blast Fatal To One

WINIFREDE, W. Va. (AP) — An all-night rescue attempt ended early today with the discovery of the body of a miner trapped by a blast deep in the Fields Creek Coal Co. mine.

Searchers located the body of Thurmond Chambers, 37, of Marmet, two miles underground.

Area Red Cross Institute Slated

Plans are under way for a Red Cross first aid instructor and instructor "refresher" training institute Sept. 7-9 at Camp Conestoga in Carroll County, off Route 43 near Minerva.

The three-day institute, which will begin daily at 6 p. m., is being held for all chapters in Northeastern Ohio.

Persons with current Red Cross advanced first aid certificates, ages 20 and up, are eligible to enroll for instructor training leading to certification, and Red Cross first aid instructors holding valid certificates may enroll for "refresher" credit.

The cost will include two nights lodging, six meals, snacks and use of recreational facilities.

All first aid instructors and advanced first aid certificate holders are urged to consider attending the institute. Further information may be obtained by calling the East Liverpool office at 386-4144.

Lodge Gives Up Fight For Senate Bid

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—John Davis Lodge, calling for an end to Republican factionalism in Connecticut, has decided against waging a primary fight for the U.S. Senate nomination.

Lodge former governor and ambassador to Spain under the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration, threw his support behind Rep. Horace Seely-Brown Jr., who received the party's endorsement at the state convention last week.

Seely-Brown, an eastern Connecticut apple grower, beat Lodge 476 to 149.

Under a state law, Lodge was entitled to challenge the convention's decision in a statewide primary because he had received at least 10 per cent of the convention vote.

"Thoughtful consideration has confirmed my decision not to enter a primary for the Republican nomination," Lodge said Tuesday night.

"In light of the prolonged struggle at the recent state convention, I think it urgent, now that the delegates have made their decision, that factionalism and personal hopes be subordinated to party unity."

That was an apparent reference to the battle for the gubernatorial nomination. The convention went to a record eight ballots before nominating John Alsop of Avon.

Alsop, brother of writers Stewart and Joseph Alsop, defeated former State Chairman Edwin H. May Jr. of Wethersfield 337-317.

doors clanged shut in the three-tiered cell block that housed 269 prisoners, watched over by 155 guards.

At 9:30 and thereafter every hour on the hour during periodic checks, nothing was found amiss.

Then at 7:15 in the morning, at the regular showup, the three didn't get up. Guards prodded what appeared to be their sleeping forms and found dummies—"very realistic, plaster, paint and hair heads and pillow bodies."

It was found that the trio, apparently for weeks, had been digging at plaster and cement four inches thick with bits of spoons. Their painstaking effort loosened a metal cover leading to a ventilation shaft through each cell wall.

The 8-by-12 inch openings connected the cells with a service shaft a yard wide.

From there it was 30 feet up a pipe to an air conditioner. This was dismantled, steel bars somehow torn aside and access gained to the mess hall roof.

A 50-foot-long drain pipe led to the ground, about 100 yards from the water on the San Francisco side of the island.

From this point, Warden Blackwell said, it was anybody's guess what the three desperate men did.

If they struck out for San Francisco, they had a mile and a quarter to swim or drift, with cold currents against them. On the northern side of the island it was 1¾ miles to Angel Island State Park. From there it was another 1¾ miles to the Marin County shore. To the east from Alcatraz lay the Navy's Treasure Island two miles away.

Fairview Grange Will Hold Picnic

Plans for the annual family picnic of the Fairview Grange June 23 were completed at a meeting Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

The picnic will be held at the Grange Hall and meat, rolls and beverage will be provided by the Grange. A tree planting ceremony will be held.

The charter was draped in memory of the late Earl Pugh, grange member killed in a tractor mishap last month.

Robert Parkins was in charge of a Father's Day and National Grange Week program. Readings were given by Mrs. Hilary Johnston and Parkins, and a quiz contest was won by Mrs. Rhody Herron.

Lunch was served 31 by Mrs. Herron and committee.

Hospital Treats Youth And 2 Men

A boy who fell from a bicycle and two men injured in other mishaps were treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Francis Kelly, 13, son of Richard Kelly of No. 2 Riverside Park, was treated at 6:40 p. m. for abrasions of the face and right arm received when he fell from his bike on Lisbon St. hill.

Victor Parker, 51, of 1155 Erie St. suffered a bruise of the side of the head after he accidentally stepped on a rake handle.

Paul Frye, 21, of 850 Phoenix Ave., Chester, employe of the Homer Laughlin China Co., received a possible fracture of the left arm in a fall on pottery equipment.

Relatives Visit Irondale Homes

Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Rowley and son, Mike, of Columbus, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coil and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rowley, all of Irondale.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Fouch of Detroit left Sunday after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tice. Mrs. Jewell Shank and Dale Porter of Madison, Wis., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tice.

Seaman Charles Leffler, husband of Mrs. Jane Nicholson Leffler, and Seaman App. Morris W. Mabe, son of Mrs. Dorothy Mabe of Springfield, Mo., are spending a five-day leave at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholson. The seamen returned recently from seven weeks training at Guantanamo Bay and visited Kingston, Jamaica. They will leave for a midshipmen's cruise June 26. They are stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Rear Wheels Catch Fire On Trailer Rig

The rear dual wheels on the trailer section of a parked tractor-trailer truck burned early today along the super-road near Mason's Foodliner at Wellsville.

Wellsville firemen were summoned by passing motorists at 1:05 a. m. who spotted the tires burning.

The rig is owned by the Glenn Cartage Co. of Cleveland. Firemen said the cab was locked and the driver was not present.

The two wheels apparently ignited when one went flat and the friction caused it to overheat.

this morning at W. 5th and Market Sts., police said.

The crash involved a Tri-State Transit Co. bus operated by Lewis D. Bolton, 49, of 243 W. 3rd St. and a 1958 two-door sedan driven by Ambrose J. Grafton, 61, of 1206 Avondale St., police said.

There was damage to the right fender well of the bus and the left front fender of the car, officers reported.

The bus driver said he was proceeding west on W. 5th and Grafton said he was moving south on Market and turning right onto W. 5th.

K. Of C. Discusses Anniversary Fete

Plans were completed for the 63rd anniversary party, at a meeting of the Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday evening in the K. of C. Hall.

James J. McGowan, newly-elected grand knight, and Ralph McNicol are co-chairmen of the celebration, to be held June 23 at the K. of C. Hall.

Dancing will be featured and a buffet lunch will be served.

Fr. Joseph Bennett, an assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, and council chaplain, will give a religious talk at Tuesday's meeting.

McGowan will announce his standing committee chairmen.

50 At Story Hour Held At Library

Fifty attended the story hour held Tuesday afternoon at the Wellsville Carnegie Library.

The program is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Miss Joanne Van Dyke, Wellsville elementary teacher, was the story teller.

Mrs. Elsa Rubin of East Liverpool will be the story teller for the program next Tuesday from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. Her topic will be "Mrs. Piggle Wiggle" and another story to be announced. The program is open to children entering the first and second grades.

Registration still is open for the book club held on Thursdays from 1:30 to 4 p. m. for children entering the third through eighth grades.

Those participating in either program will be feted at a theater party July 19.

Highlandtown Corps Discusses Festival

Further plans for participating in the annual homecoming in July were discussed at a meeting of the Highlandtown Women's Corps, an auxiliary of the volunteer fire department, Tuesday night at the station.

Anyone with news items for a special homecoming paper to be published may contact Mrs. Jean Frances.

The women voted to donate proceeds from a record hop to the Southern Local Little League.

A special meeting was set for June 26. Mrs. June Talbott is president.

Traffic Unit To Meet

LISBON — Approval of a budget to be submitted to Columbiana County commissioners will be considered at a meeting of the County Traffic Safety Committee next Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Village Hall. The group is not slated to meet again until September, Thomas Williams of Salem, president, said.

Jordan Olivar has coached Yale football for ten seasons.

Board Meeting Set

MIDDLETON — The student insurance program for next fall, summer repairs and teacher vacancies will be among items to be discussed at a meeting of the Fairfield - Waterford School District Board of Education Thursday night at 8 at the Crestview High School.

Dear friends,

You have read, no doubt, that the span of life has been increased remarkably during the past twenty years.

Our own records prove this fact. Particularly in child mortality, science is saving the lives of thousands during the period of infancy.

Doubtless many homes in our community have been saved from grief of such a loss because of this advance in scientific knowledge.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Martin

At 9:30 and thereafter every hour on the hour during periodic checks, nothing was found amiss.

Then at 7:15 in the morning, at the regular showup, the three didn't get up. Guards prodded what appeared to be their sleeping forms and found dummies—"very realistic, plaster, paint and hair heads and pillow bodies."

It was found that the trio, apparently for weeks, had been digging at plaster and cement four inches thick with bits of spoons. Their painstaking effort loosened a metal cover leading to a ventilation shaft through each cell wall.

The 8-by-12 inch openings connected the cells with a service shaft a yard wide.

From there it was 30 feet up a pipe to an air conditioner. This was dismantled, steel bars somehow torn aside and access gained to the mess hall roof.

A 50-foot-long drain pipe led to the ground, about 100 yards from the water on the San Francisco side of the island.

From this point, Warden Blackwell said, it was anybody's guess what the three desperate men did.

If they struck out for San Francisco, they had a mile and a quarter to swim or drift, with cold currents against them. On the northern side of the island it was 1¾ miles to Angel Island State Park. From there it was another 1¾ miles to the Marin County shore. To the east from Alcatraz lay the Navy's Treasure Island two miles away.

Fairview Grange Will Hold Picnic

Plans for the annual family picnic of the Fairview Grange June 23 were completed at a meeting Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

The picnic will be held at the Grange Hall and meat, rolls and beverage will be provided by the Grange. A tree planting ceremony will be held.

The charter was draped in memory of the late Earl Pugh, grange member killed in a tractor mishap last month.

Robert Parkins was in charge of a Father's Day and National Grange Week program. Readings were given by Mrs. Hilary Johnston and Parkins, and a quiz contest was won by Mrs. Rhody Herron.

Lunch was served 31 by Mrs. Herron and committee.

Hospital Treats Youth And 2 Men

A boy who fell from a bicycle and two men injured in other mishaps were treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Francis Kelly, 13, son of Richard Kelly of No. 2 Riverside Park, was treated at 6:40 p. m. for abrasions of the face and right arm received when he fell from his bike on Lisbon St. hill.

Victor Parker, 51, of 1155 Erie St. suffered a bruise of the side of the head after he accidentally stepped on a rake handle.

Paul Frye, 21, of 850 Phoenix Ave., Chester, employe of the Homer Laughlin China Co., received a possible fracture of the left arm in a fall on pottery equipment.

Relatives Visit Irondale Homes

Mabe, son of Mrs. Dorothy Mabe of Springfield, Mo., are spending a five-day leave at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholson. The seamen returned recently from seven weeks training at Guantanamo Bay and visited Kingston, Jamaica. They will leave for a midshipmen's cruise June 26. They are stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Rear Wheels Catch Fire On Trailer Rig

The rear dual wheels on the trailer section of a parked tractor-trailer truck burned early today along the super-road near Mason's Foodliner at Wellsville.

Wellsville firemen were summoned by passing motorists at 1:05 a. m. who spotted the tires burning.

The rig is owned by the Glenn Cartage Co. of Cleveland. Firemen said the cab was locked and the driver was not present.

The two wheels apparently ignited when one went flat and the friction caused it to overheat.

Traffic

this morning at W. 5th and Market Sts., police said.

The crash involved a Tri-State Transit Co. bus operated by Lewis D. Bolton, 49, of 243 W. 3rd St. and a 1958 two-door sedan driven by Ambrose J. Grafton, 61, of 1206 Avondale St., police said.

There was damage to the right fender well of the bus and the left front fender of the car, officers reported.

The bus driver said he was proceeding west on W. 5th and Grafton said he was moving south on Market and turning right onto W. 5th.

Dear friends,

You have read, no doubt, that the span of life has been increased remarkably during the past twenty years.

Our own records prove this fact. Particularly in child mortality, science is saving the lives of thousands during the period of infancy.

Doubtless many homes in our community have been saved from grief of such a loss because of this advance in scientific knowledge.

Sincerely,

Richard C. Martin

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McComas, 1015 Pennsylvania Ave., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Mona McComas, to Ronald Jay Prince, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Prince of R. D. 1.

The prospective bride is a 1961 graduate of East Liverpool High School and attends Kent State University, where she is majoring in health, physical education and biology.

Her fiance was graduated from the high school in 1960 and attended the university for a year, when he was enrolled in the College of Business Administration. He is employed at the Homer Laughlin China Co. and plans to return to school this fall.

The open church wedding will take place the evening of Sept. 1 at 7:30 o'clock in the Anderson Methodist Church.

Mr., Mrs. Jerome Doyle Establish Home In Beaver

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Francis Doyle, newlyweds, are now residing in Beaver, following a honeymoon in New York State and Canada. Mrs. Doyle, the former Miss Dianne Estella Hewitt, is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Hewitt of Beaver. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Grace Doyle of Ohio View.

The double-ring ceremony was performed May 26 at Sts. Peter & Paul Catholic Church in Beaver by Fr. Louis G. Minewiser. The altar was banked with vases of calla lilies and white carnations. Mrs. Steve Betinovich of Beaver was organist and Theodore Braun was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her godfather, Paul Graff, of Rochester wore a floor - length gown of silk organza and silk embroidery, styled with a scoop neckline and a bodice of sequins and pearls. The skirt was styled with an embroidered front and back panel and ended in a chapel sweep.

A pillbox trimmed in sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a handkerchief belonging to her late maternal grandmother and a lace-covered prayer book topped with an arrangement of stephanotis and a pure white orchid.

Mrs. William Flynn of Beaver, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Mary Pat Doyle, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They were attired in identical ballerina-length gowns of pink organza, styled with round necklines, short sleeves and draped waistlines ending in two large loops in the back and trimmed with roses. They wore matching pillbox headpieces with circular veils.

Patty Ann Doyle and Diana Doyle, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls and wore pink organza dresses and carried fireside baskets of pink and white carnations.

William Flynn of Beaver was best man. Ushers were Donald Doyle of Ohio View and Richard Wilson of Vanport.

A wedding luncheon was held in the Penn Beaver Hotel in Rochester following the ceremony. A reception for 300 guests was held in the fireman's hall in Industry in the evening. Aides included Mrs. William Tichy, Mrs. Ben Montgomery, Mrs. Allen Craft, Mrs. Francis Graff, Miss Barbara Graff and Miss Janet Montgomery.

The bride was graduated from Beaver Area High School and is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. Her husband is a graduate of Midland Lincoln High School and also works at the Midland plant.

MONA McCOMAS
Fiancee Of Ronald J. Prince.

Mona McComas Will Be Bride In Nuptials Sept. 1

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McComas, 1015 Pennsylvania Ave., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Mona McComas, to Ronald Jay Prince, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Prince of R. D. 1.

The prospective bride is a 1961 graduate of East Liverpool High School and attends Kent State University, where she is majoring in health, physical education and biology.

Her fiance was graduated from the high school in 1960 and attended the university for a year, when he was enrolled in the College of Business Administration. He is employed at the Homer Laughlin China Co. and plans to return to school this fall.

The open church wedding will take place the evening of Sept. 1 at 7:30 o'clock in the Anderson Methodist Church.

Mr., Mrs. Jerome Doyle Establish Home In Beaver

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Francis Doyle, newlyweds, are now residing in Beaver, following a honeymoon in New York State and Canada. Mrs. Doyle, the former Miss Dianne Estella Hewitt, is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Hewitt of Beaver. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Grace Doyle of Ohio View.

The double-ring ceremony was performed May 26 at Sts. Peter & Paul Catholic Church in Beaver by Fr. Louis G. Minewiser. The altar was banked with vases of calla lilies and white carnations. Mrs. Steve Betinovich of Beaver was organist and Theodore Braun was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her godfather, Paul Graff, of Rochester wore a floor - length gown of silk organza and silk embroidery, styled with a scoop neckline and a bodice of sequins and pearls. The skirt was styled with an embroidered front and back panel and ended in a chapel sweep.

A pillbox trimmed in sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a handkerchief belonging to her late maternal grandmother and a lace-covered prayer book topped with an arrangement of stephanotis and a pure white orchid.

Mrs. William Flynn of Beaver, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Mary Pat Doyle, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They were attired in identical ballerina-length gowns of pink organza, styled with round necklines, short sleeves and draped waistlines ending in two large loops in the back and trimmed with roses. They wore matching pillbox headpieces with circular veils.

Patty Ann Doyle and Diana Doyle, nieces of the bridegroom, were flower girls and wore pink organza dresses and carried fireside baskets of pink and white carnations.

William Flynn of Beaver was best man. Ushers were Donald Doyle of Ohio View and Richard Wilson of Vanport.

A wedding luncheon was held in the Penn Beaver Hotel in Rochester following the ceremony. A reception for 300 guests was held in the fireman's hall in Industry in the evening. Aides included Mrs. William Tichy, Mrs. Ben Montgomery, Mrs. Allen Craft, Mrs. Francis Graff, Miss Barbara Graff and Miss Janet Montgomery.

The bride was graduated from Beaver Area High School and is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. Her husband is a graduate of Midland Lincoln High School and also works at the Midland plant.

Mrs. Lester Barr Elected Midland Auxiliary Head

Mrs. Lester Barr was elected president of the auxiliary of Midland American Legion Post 481, Monday evening when the group met in the Legion Home. She succeeds Mrs. Charles Adkins.

Other officers named are Mrs. Rex Black, first vice president; Mrs. John J. Dante, second vice president; Mrs. Paul Stiffler, secretary; Mrs. Ann Castelli, treasurer; Mrs. Rose Musser, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Walter Rodfong, chaplain, and Mrs. L. E. Kinsey, historian.

The installation ceremony will be held Sept. 10, featuring a coverdish dinner. Mrs. Mary McCandless of New Brighton, western director, will be the installing officer.

During business conducted by Mrs. Adkins, a report on the recent magazine drive was given by the president. Proceeds were used to purchase two felt mattresses, two walkers, two bed-side supports and six mattress covers. The items, which can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Black, are available free of charge.

The unit received a national citation and cash award for obtaining its membership quota. Mrs. Castelli, membership chairman, and Mrs. Adkins received personal awards for their efforts in achieving the goal.

Mrs. Dante, chairman of the rehabilitation committee, reported that the unit will sponsor a fishing party Thursday for veterans at the Deshon Hospital at Butler at the Hereford Lake in Zelienople. Another party is being planned for August.

Mrs. Adkins reported on the recent luncheon held in Pittsburgh, honoring Mrs. J. Howard McKay, national president. Mrs. Adkins will attend the state convention in Philadelphia July 18-21. She has been named chairman of resolutions, recommendations and bylaws committees at the convention.

A donation was made to the Midland July 4th committee.

A brief memorial ceremony was held for Mrs. Hazel Griffith, president in 1956, who died last week. The charter was draped.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Hilda Jones and Miss Louise Torres, who won a prize.

Meetings will not be held during July and August.

First Church WSCS Hears Missionary From Korea

Mrs. Juanita R. Shaw of Kent, missionary on furlough from Korea, was guest speaker at the meeting of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church Monday night.

A daughter of the late Dr. William B. Robinson, a former superintendent of the Steubenville District, she has served several years in Korea, working particularly with the large number of war widows. She told of the school work, remarking there is no free education and lay leaders give much assistance. She also mentioned publications.

Slides she screened concerned the Methodist projects and the church built as a memorial to her husband, who was killed there. A question-and-answer period followed.

Mrs. Shaw is continuing her studies at Western Reserve University at Cleveland and, with her two sons, is making her home with her mother in Kent.

She was introduced by Mrs. Gail Richmond, who conducted the worship. Scripture reference was from Luke 24 and Matt. 28. The group sang "Oh Could I Speak the Matchless Worth" and "Work for the Night Is Coming."

Mrs. Melvin Johnson, retiring president, opened business with prayer. Mrs. Andrew Myers Jr. read the minutes. The meeting was turned over to the new president, Mrs. Albert McLain.

Mrs. Aaron Eaton, Mrs. Victoria Willis and Mrs. J. W. Belaney were named to a committee to purchase plans for the church kitchen and a table cloth. Mrs. Francis Lang reported on the Sewing Guild which meets Wednesday morning at the church.

Mrs. McLain read a prayer poem for closing. Refreshments were served 36 at a buffet table centered with a rose arrangement decorated with birds. The Dorcas Circle was hostess unit.

The first fall meeting is Sept. 10.

'It Was Friend's Car I Hit,' Defendant In Hit-Run Says

A 28-year-old Klondyke man accused of leaving the scene of an accident Thursday night on Harvey Ave. today offered Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff the unique excuse that the car he hit was owned by a friend and he did not halt at the time, but made arrangements later by telephone to pay for the damage.

Judge Chertoff continued the case of Max Linville, 1821 Michigan Ave., to allow him to present testimony from the friend, Marion Sias of Maple Dr., Calcutta. His $107.50 bond was continued.

Linville pleaded not guilty at arraignment Monday, but told the court today: "I did that so I could explain what happened."

The charge against Linville was filed by Patrolman Paul Blevins, who identified Linville as the driver of an auto which did not halt after striking Sias' parked car on Harvey Ave. near Myrtle Ave. The police accident report said the offending car made a sweeping turn in a service station driveway, hit the Sias auto and then continued without stopping.

Officer Blevins testified he arrived at the scene five minutes after the crash, dispatched by the deskman at headquarters. He said he obtained a description of the offending car and learned the first letter of the license, number from witnesses. He also picked up a long chrome strip found at the scene, he said, offering it in evidence.

Acting on a tip, the officer found Linville's car parked at the rear of the defendant's home, he testified. A chrome strip was missing from the auto, he said. He said there was no response to his knocks at Linville's home, but he took the defendant into custody the following afternoon on a warrent.

"After I hit the car, I saw there was no one around," Linville told the court. "The owner is a good friend of mine; I recognized the car. I called him up and explained and made arrangements to repair the damage. We were going to come down and report it to the police department the following day."

"If the witness did what he says he did, he's not guilty of the charge," the judge commented. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark agreed.

The judge continued the hearing to allow Sias to appear to verify Linville's testimony. The hearing is set tentatively to resume Tuesday at 9 a. m., depending upon Sias' work schedule.

Man Given Probation In Non-Support Case

LISBON — Donald Hooper, 32, of Hammondsville, charged with non-support of two minor children, was placed on five-year probation by Judge Joel H. Sharp Tuesday and ordered to pay $20 weekly for the children, plus $5 a week court costs.

Judge Sharp ruled that Hooper —who had requested probation on the charge — will be sent to prison if he misses just one week of payment. Testimony showed the family has received over $7,500 for support from the County Welfare Department since 1952.

Deaths and Funerals

Retired Drug Clerk Claimed

Eugene W. Hill, 409 Morton St., a retired drug clerk, died Tuesday noon at his home, following an illness of several years. He was 68.

He was born in Wheeling June 3, 1894, to Charles Hill and Josephine Nolte Hill, and resided in this area 40 years. He was a member of the First Methodist Church here and the Bates Masonic Lodge and Osiris Temple, both of Wheeling. At one time he worked at the former Matthews Cutrate Drugs and also at Rand's Drugstore. He was a veteran of World War I.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Lizzieta Cook Hill at home, and three sisters, Mrs. Duretta Mooney, Mrs. Harriet Clark and Mrs. Nell Howard, all of Wheeling.

Services will be held Friday at 10:30 a. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. John Clark. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery at Wheeling.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Ella Keller

NEW CUMBERLAND—Mrs. Ella DeBussey Keller, 82, of 2nd Ave., a native of Jackson County, died Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. at Weirton General Hospital, where she had been a patient several weeks.

For the past six years, she had made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Robert Herron. She was born Sept. 16, 1879, to Robert Adolphus DeBussey and Mary Catherine Palmer DeBussey. She was a member of the Christian Church at Ravenswood.

She is survived by a son, Clarence H. Cline of Camden, N. J.; four other daughters, Mrs. Ruby Wilson of Newcomerstown, Mrs. May Batton of New Martinsville, Mrs. Ruth Jones of Newark, and Mrs. Helen James of Scottdale, Pa.; a brother, H. R. DeBussey of Parkersburg; three sisters, Mrs. Clara D. Young of Murraysville, Pa., Mrs. Florence Woofter and Mrs. Mary Nern, both of Ravenswood, and 19 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Fields Funeral Home this afternoon and tonight. The body will be removed Thursday morning to the Chambers Funeral Home in Ravenswood.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the church by the Rev. Carl Smith. Burial will be in the Ravenswood Cemetery.

Sam Prodonovich

Sam Prodonovich, 74, of Tuscarawas Rd., Fairview, a retired brakeman in the Transportation Department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died Tuesday at 11:40 p. m. at his home following a long illness.

He was born in Austria, April 10, 1888, and was a member of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church of Midland.

He leaves eight sons, Steve Prodonovich of East Liverpool, Pete Prodonovich of Industry, Joseph Prodonovich, Michael Prodonovich and Sam Prodonovich Jr., all of Midland Heights, Milan Prodonovich and Daniel Prodonovich, both of Midland, and George Prodonovich, with the Air Force at Big Spring, Tex.; seven daughters, Mrs. Min D'Angelo, Mrs. Sophie Trainer and Mrs. Daisy Relich, all of Midland, Mrs. Dorothy Lazorisak of Leetsdale, Mrs. Mary Melnick of Midland Heights, Mrs. Ann Bubon of Youngstown, and Miss Patricia Prodonovich at home, and 41 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the church by Fr. Milorad Dobrota. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Schwerha Funeral Home in Midland after 7 tonight.

Charles Howard

Charles Howard, 82, a patient at the Griffin Rest Home in Wellsville for several months, died Tuesday afternoon. He resided in East Liverpool for some years and was a patient in the Massillon State Hospital for many years.

He was born in West Virginia.

There are no known survivors.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. Arden R. Beck, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Springhill Cemetery, Wellsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Mrs. Alma McCurdy

Services for Mrs. Alma Bough McCurdy, 518 E. 5th St., who died Monday, will be held Thursday morning at 11 at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Midland Parochial Pupils To Graduate

Forty - nine eighth graders of the Midland Presentation Parochial School will graduate Friday at 8:30 a. m. Mass, Sister Ermeline, principal, said.

They will attend a breakfast afterwards at the church lyceum. Awards will be presented to the outstanding boys and girls by the Catholic Daughters of America and American Legion Post 481 and auxiliary.

The last full day of school was Tuesday. Students will report Friday morning for their report cards.

The graduates will attend Midland Lincoln junior-senior high and the new Beaver County Junior-Senior High School in the fall.

Midland Man Pleads Guilty

Leroy Green Jr. of Midalnd, charged with liquor violation, pleaded guilty Tuesday in Beaver County Court at Beaver.

Eli McCullough of Midland, also charged with liquor violation, awaits trial. The case of Maurice L. Kaye of Ambridge, charged with abortion, is expected to go to the jury today.

A jury returned a not guilty verdict yesterday in the trial of Hobert Halfhill of New Sewickley, charged with corrupting the morals of a minor.

Guilty verdicts were returned against William Bassinger of Rochester and John Knecht of Ambridge, charged with assault and battery, and Bassinger and Robert Hresko of Rochester, on a similar charge.

There was also a guilty verdict in the trial of Thomas P. McCormick of Pittsburgh, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under influence of intoxicants.

Secretary Orville L. Freeman to clear her name and pay her restitution.

Miss Jones was hauled out of the department building and placed in a mental ward for observation for 12 days after she got into a squabble with department employes who were guarding a room where some files on Estes were stored.

Her only connection with the Estes case was that she worked for N. Battle Hales, a longtime department employe who publicly accused his superiors of showing favoritism to Estes.

Hales was shifted to another job and barred access to his old office, where the files were. Miss Jones ran into her trouble when she tried to get into Hales' old office to get a routine paper signed.

The public is invited. Michael J. Gerace is exalted ruler of the East Liverpool lodge and C. R. Donaldson heads the Wellsville lodge.

Salem Couple Slates Golden Wedding Fete

SALEM — Mr. and Mrs. A. David Swaney, 1264 E. 3rd St., will hold open house June 24 from 2 to 5 p. m. in observance of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Swaney, retired Mullins Manufacturing Co. foreman, and his wife, the former Eva Martin of Elkrun Township, were married June 26, 1912, and have resided here for 45 years.

They have a son, Glenn M. Swaney of East Palestine; a daughter, Mrs. Joseph (Ruth) Weikart of Leetonia, and there are five grandchildren.

Opposition Indicated To Pughtown Project

Petitions opposing a plan of Hancock County commissioners to declare Pughtown as a Public Service District are being circulated in the community.

Commissioners plan to declare the community a service district in a move to aid in the installation of water and sewage lines.

Commissioners will hold a public hearing on the proposal July 2 at 10 a. m. in the County Courthouse in New Cumberland. If a sufficient number of residents oppose the proposal, there exists a possibility that the issue would be placed on a ballot for a public election.

Scout Heads Are Returned

All officers were returned by the Cherokee Boy Scout District committee at a meeting Tuesday night at the Chester American Legion home.

They are Thomas Snow of Wyoming Ave., district chairman; Frank Rossi and Adolf Brandt, vice chairmen, and Eugene Seeley, district commissioner.

Twenty-five attended. Guests included Ron Eccleberry, institutional representative of Pack 10 of the Newell Jefferson PTA; Sgt. E. P. Vallor, local Army recruiter; the Rev. Russell Mase, institutional representative of Pack 11 of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church; Howard Prince, assistant scoutmaster of Wellsville Troop 20, and Bill Jones, assistant district commissioner for scouting roundtables.

Rayburn reported on the expedition to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico in July. A work session will be held this weekend at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake.

Rossi reported on the Explorer program in the district. Snow said adult leaders are needed. He said a basic training course in cubbing will be held June 24.

Bob Gray of Newell, district executive, reported on unit financing. He said a roundtable will be held tonight at 7 at the upper pavilion at Thompson Park.

Wellsville Post Names Delegates

Delegates to the department conference at Cleveland July 5-8 were named at a meeting of Wellsville VFW Post 5647 Tuesday night at the post home.

Elected were James Daniels, commander, Clester Collins and Clifford White.

Plans were completed for the annual Poppy Day sale June 29. This is the date of the volunteer fire department's parade and post members will sell poppies during the day and along the parade route.

A family picnic will be held Sunday, July 1, at Prokop Park on Beaver Creek near Williamsport. Wives of members are to take a coverdish. Games and entertainment will be provided.

It was announced the post will host the 6th District table tennis tournament in November.

The next meeting is July 11. Only one meeting a month is held during the summer.

Douglas Fairbanks (1883-1939) was a pioneer American motion picture actor who gained fame for his athletically - demanding roles.

County GOP Plans $5 Club

LISBON — Columbiana County Republicans held a meeting Tuesday evening in the village hall and organized a countywide "Five Dollar Club," according to Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, county GOP chairman.

Membership in the fund-raising organization is open to any county resident contributing a yearly $5 fee. Pike told the Republicans the objective of the club is twofold —

First, to provide a means for an annual collection of funds which would permit consistent campaign planning at the local level, and secondly, to broaden the base of support given to the Republican party by county residents.

The 54 charter members of the club, under the temporary chairmanship of Rep. Clarence Wetzel, elected Allen Dalrymple of Wellsville as president.

Dalrymple announced the charter members will serve as a task force in a vigorous campaign to recruit additional members. An ultimate membership of 1,000 countians is proposed.

Other officers selected were Roy Guy of Columbiana and Atty. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, co vice presidents; Mrs. Bernice Lewis of Lisbon, secretary, and James Magill of Columbiana, treasurer.

Next meeting of the "Five Dollar Club" will be held in September at the call of Dalrymple.

85 Attend Grandview Pupils' School Fete

Eighty-five attended the annual picnic of the Grandview School near Chester Tuesday at the school.

The Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 provided refreshments and game prizes for the event, sponsored by the Grandview Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Donald Brown was chairman.

Scout Heads Are Returned

All officers were returned by the Cherokee Boy Scout District committee at a meeting Tuesday night at the Chester American Legion home.

They are Thomas Snow of Wyoming Ave., district chairman; Frank Rossi and Adolf Brandt, vice chairmen, and Eugene Seeley, district commissioner.

Twenty-five attended. Guests included Ron Eccleberry, institutional representative of Pack 10 of the Newell Jefferson PTA; Sgt. E. P. Vallor, local Army recruiter; the Rev. Russell Mase, institutional representative of Pack 11 of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church; Howard Prince, assistant scoutmaster of Wellsville Troop 20, and Bill Jones, assistant district commissioner for scouting roundtables.

Rayburn reported on the expedition to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico in July. A work session will be held this weekend at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake.

Rossi reported on the Explorer program in the district. Snow said adult leaders are needed. He said a basic training course in cubbing will be held June 24.

Bob Gray of Newell, district executive, reported on unit financing. He said a roundtable will be held tonight at 7 at the upper pavilion at Thompson Park.

Wellsville Post Names Delegates

Delegates to the department conference at Cleveland July 5-8 were named at a meeting of Wellsville VFW Post 5647 Tuesday night at the post home.

Elected were James Daniels, commander, Clester Collins and Clifford White.

Plans were completed for the annual Poppy Day sale June 29. This is the date of the volunteer fire department's parade and post members will sell poppies during the day and along the parade route.

A family picnic will be held Sunday, July 1, at Prokop Park on Beaver Creek near Williamsport. Wives of members are to take a coverdish. Games and entertainment will be provided.

It was announced the post will host the 6th District table tennis tournament in November.

The next meeting is July 11. Only one meeting a month is held during the summer.

Douglas Fairbanks (1883-1939) was a pioneer American motion picture actor who gained fame for his athletically - demanding roles.

County GOP Plans $5 Club

LISBON — Columbiana County Republicans held a meeting Tuesday evening in the village hall and organized a countywide "Five Dollar Club," according to Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, county GOP chairman.

Membership in the fund-raising organization is open to any county resident contributing a yearly $5 fee. Pike told the Republicans the objective of the club is two-fold —

First, to provide a means for an annual collection of funds which would permit consistent campaign planning at the local level, and secondly, to broaden the base of support given to the Republican party by county residents.

The 54 charter members of the club, under the temporary chairmanship of Rep. Clarence Wetzel, elected Allen Dalrymple of Wellsville as president.

Dalrymple announced the charter members will serve as a task force in a vigorous campaign to recruit additional members. An ultimate membership of 1,000 countians is proposed.

Other officers selected were Roy Guy of Columbiana and Atty. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, co vice presidents; Mrs. Bernice Lewis of Lisbon, secretary, and James Magill of Columbiana, treasurer.

Next meeting of the "Five Dollar Club" will be held in September at the call of Dalrymple.

85 Attend Grandview Pupils' School Fete

Eighty-five attended the annual picnic of the Grandview School near Chester Tuesday at the school.

The Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 provided refreshments and game prizes for the event, sponsored by the Grandview Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Donald Brown was chairman.

County Boys Wait Buckeye Legion State

Several area high school juniors will leave Lisbon Thursday morning at 7 by chartered bus for the annual Buckeye Boys' State program of the American Legion at Ohio University at Athens. The session will end June 23.

Eight East Liverpool High School juniors will attend.

Post 4 will send Charles M. Walsh, 820 St. George St.; Richard R. Heddleston, 1304 St. Clair Ave.; John W. Weaver, 807 Lincoln Ave., and William R. Durbin, 709 E. 4th St.

Post 374 will send Jack Neal Alpern of Broadview Circle; Thomas Kraft, 233 Center St.; Martin Steinberg of Pond St., and Theodore Waters, 1234 Pennsylvania Ave.

The boys were chosen by the school faculty. The alternates are Lester Erwine, Bill Krieger and Ted Jarvis.

Also attending will be Richard Fergason and James Carter from Salineville High. They are sponsored by Salineville Post 442.

Al Hayes of Columbiana is in charge of the county arrangements.

The East Liverpool delegates met this morning with the boys who attended last year for an orientation.

Buckeye Girls State will open Sunday at Capital University at Columbus. East Liverpool will be represented by Sue Montgomery and Nancy Greenwood.

File Damage Suits

NEW YORK (AP) — Damage suits seeking $500,000 each have been filed in Federal Court by the widows of three servicemen killed in the crash of an Army helocopter, including Mrs. Frances E. Brown of Lawrence County, Ohio, widow of Capt. Robert D. Brown. The crash occurred June 1, 1961 near Fort Campbell, Ky.

South Side Athletics Group Airs Plans For Horse Show

The South Side Athletic Club Tuesday night discussed plans for a horse show June 30 and an annual Tag Day July 7 and announced filling several manager and coach posts.

The horse show was outlined by Herbert Breinig, owner of the Hanover Township ranch which will stage the event with the club assisting. The club will make its final plans at its regular meeting June 26.

It was announced the Tag Day will be held July 7 in each of the seven districts of the club's Hot Stove League.

The recent Memorial Day observance was discussed and it was reported that after bills were paid for supplies, a profit of about $140 was realized.

Walter Allison, manager of the Georgetown junior team, named Ronnie Pease and Dale Wilson as his coaches. Ellsworth Mackall resigned as manager of the Georgetown senior team and was replaced by Richard Trimble. Howard Campbell will be a coach, assisting Trimble.

A letter from Cy Butler, president of the National Hot Stove League, was read, commenting on the club's activities.

All home teams were notified that scores are to be turned in to Daniel Wright, secretary, by 9 p. m. following games.

William (Bud) Green, president, presided. A meeting of the club's auxiliary will be held Monday night at the Legion Hall near Hookstown with Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, president, presiding.

Chester Driver Pays Damages In Collision

A charge of leaving the scene of an accident against Thomas Kell of 3rd St., Chester, was withdrawn by William Eynon of Route 2 Tuesday night after Kell paid $25 for damages to Eynon's car.

Kell, against whom Eynon filed the charge after a collision on Route 2 Friday, also paid $5.50 costs to Squire Eugene Allison in whose court the citation was filed originally.

3rd Man In City Holdup Will Go To Reformatory

A 29-year-old Aliquippa man, charged with the March 23 armed robbery of an East End market, was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory Tuesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court in Lisbon.

Albert Leonard Johnson, one of three men captured by police minutes after they held up the Wilson's Golden Dawn Market, 1719 Pennsylvania Ave., was sentenced to 10-25 years.

James Brown, 22, and William E. Gaston, 26, also of Aliquippa, were previously sentenced to similar terms at the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus after pleading guilty and requesting immediate sentencing at arraignment.

Johnson had requested probation.

Columbiana County's Draft Call Will Be 2

The Columbiana County Draft Board has received a quota of two men for July — the lowest number in many months — as part of the State Selective Service's reduced quota.

In contrast, the board is sending 13 men June 26 as this month's quota. The state induction call for July is 371 against last July's 883. The current state call is 505. Jefferson County's July call is five.

Youngest man who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before July 1 unless he is a volunteer. The July call is the lowest of the year to date.

'OPEN HOUSE' AT NEWELL. Mrs. Sadye Nally, president, and Miss Pat Pruden, chairman of the junior group, right, greet Mr. and Mrs. Julian C. Wilson and daughter, Janet Lee, at an "open house" held by the auxiliary of Newell American Legion Post 114 Tuesday night at the post home. A buffet lunch was served at the event for graduating seniors, their parents and friends following commencement at Wells High School. About 200 attended, and a larger crowd was present for commencement. Miss Wilson was one of 34 seniors who received diplomas. Members of the Hancock County Board of Education attended the reception at the post home, the first ever held in the community for the graduates and their families.

LaCroft Mothers Band Gives Entertainment For Rotary

Combining the noise of Spike Jones, the harmony of Mitch Miller's choir, and the enthusiasm of teenagers, 18 LaCroft housewives entertained the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon with a program of music.

Mrs. Beth Steiner directed the musicians, who are billed as the LaCroft Mother Singers and Kitchen Band.

Attired in white blouses, black skirts and red corsages, the mothers presented a rollicking half-hour program of harmony and unusual sounds.

The kitchen band displayed ample rhythm in using instruments fashioned of kitchen utensils in "Hey, Look Me Over," "She'll Be Coming Round the Mountain" and "Meet Me In Seattle," the latter invoking laughter with gag lyrics.

During the "Hey, Look Me Over" selection, one group paraded through the club's meeting room in the Travelers Hotel in Gay 90's costumes, complete with feathers, shawls and floor-touching dresses.

The melody for the band's numbers was supplied with small wind instruments that produced sound similar to paper - covered comb. The clatter of coffee pots, and utensils rapped with sticks supplied the rhythm.

The choir presented "Four Leaf Clover," "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning," "Love Walked In," "Green Cathedral," "This is My Country" and "He," the latter a pop recording which proved the best selection.

Participating were Mrs. Viola Densmore, Mrs. Verna Thorne, Mrs. Eileen Purinton, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Shafer, Mrs. Peg Lovett, Mrs. Verla Davis, Mrs. Lucy Vest, Mrs. Delores Hendricks, Mrs. Margaret Kountz, Mrs. Lillian Rowley, Mrs. Mary Rudibaugh, Mrs. Dorothy Koenig, Mrs. Madalyn Mack and Mrs. Phyllis Phillips.

Mrs. Juanita Garver was accompanist. Co - chairmen were Mrs. Viola Densmore, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Rudibaugh.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, presided. There were four guests present from Steubenville and Weirton.

Woman Injured, Cited In Wreck

A Wellsville area woman, injured when her car veered off County Rd. 875 between Glasgow and Gavers and overturned Tuesday night, was cited for driving off the wrong side of the road by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Harriett McElhaney, 32, of Wellsville R.D. 1 suffered a bruised forehead, cuts of the knees and abrasions of the side when the 1958 coach, headed east, went off the left side of the roadway at a hillcrest and overturned.

The car was heavily damaged in the mishap, which occurred at 9 p. m. Officers said she was cited under a section of the law which prohibits motorists from driving off the opposite side of a highway.

John W. Golden, 16, of Columbiana was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his pickup truck hit the rear of a halted sports convertible operated by Gary E. Carringer, 18, of Youngstown on Route 14 a half mile east of Washingtonville at 3:20 p. m.

'OPEN HOUSE' AT NEWELL. Mrs. Sadye Nally, president, and Miss Pat Pruden, chairman of the junior group, right, greet Mr. and Mrs. Julian C. Wilson and daughter, Janet Lee, at an "open house" held by the auxiliary of Newell American Legion Post 114 Tuesday night at the post home. A buffet lunch was served at the event for graduating seniors, their parents and friends following commencement at Wells High School. About 200 attended, and a larger crowd was present for commencement. Miss Wilson was one of 34 seniors who received diplomas. Members of the Hancock County Board of Education attended the reception at the post home, the first ever held in the community for the graduates and their families.

3rd Man In City Holdup Will Go To Reformatory

A 29-year-old Aliquippa man, charged with the March 23 armed robbery of an East End market, was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory Tuesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court in Lisbon.

Albert Leonard Johnson, one of three men captured by police minutes after they held up the Wilson's Golden Dawn Market, 1719 Pennsylvania Ave., was sentenced to 10-25 years.

James Brown, 22, and William E. Gaston, 26, also of Aliquippa, were previously sentenced to similar terms at the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus after pleading guilty and requesting immediate sentencing at arraignment.

Johnson had requested probation.

Columbiana County's Draft Call Will Be 2

The Columbiana County Draft Board has received a quota of two men for July — the lowest number in many months — as part of the State Selective Service's reduced quota.

In contrast, the board is sending 13 men June 26 as this month's quota. The state induction call for July is 371 against last July's 883. The current state call is 505. Jefferson County's July call is five.

Youngest man who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before July 1 unless he is a volunteer. The July call is the lowest of the year to date.

LaCroft Mothers Band Gives Entertainment For Rotary

Combining the noise of Spike Jones, the harmony of Mitch Miller's choir, and the enthusiasm of teenagers, 18 LaCroft housewives entertained the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon with a program of music.

Mrs. Beth Steiner directed the musicians, who are billed as the LaCroft Mother Singers and Kitchen Band.

Attired in white blouses, black skirts and red corsages, the mothers presented a rollicking half-hour program of harmony and unusual sounds.

The kitchen band displayed ample rhythm in using instruments fashioned of kitchen utensils in "Hey, Look Me Over," "She'll Be Coming Round the Mountain" and "Meet Me In Seattle," the latter invoking laughter with gag lyrics.

During the "Hey, Look Me Over" selection, one group paraded through the club's meeting room in the Travelers Hotel in Gay 90's costumes, complete with feathers, shawls and floor-touching dresses.

The melody for the band's numbers was supplied with small wind instruments that produced sound similar to paper - covered comb. The clatter of coffee pots, and utensils rapped with sticks supplied the rhythm.

The choir presented "Four Leaf Clover," "Oh, What A Beautiful Morning," "Love Walked In," "Green Cathedral," "This is My Country" and "He," the latter a pop recording which proved the best selection.

Participating were Mrs. Viola Densmore, Mrs. Verna Thorne, Mrs. Eileen Purinton, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Shafer, Mrs. Peg Lovett, Mrs. Verla Davis, Mrs. Lucy Vest, Mrs. Delores Hendricks, Mrs. Margaret Kountz, Mrs. Lillian Rowley, Mrs. Mary Rudibaugh, Mrs. Dorothy Koenig, Mrs. Madalyn Mack and Mrs. Phyllis Phillips.

Mrs. Juanita Garver was accompanist. Co - chairmen were Mrs. Viola Densmore, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Rudibaugh.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, presided. There were four guests present from Steubenville and Weirton.

Woman Injured, Cited In Wreck

A Wellsville area woman, injured when her car veered off County Rd. 875 between Glasgow and Gavers and overturned Tuesday night, was cited for driving off the wrong side of the road by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Harriett McElhaney, 32, of Wellsville R.D. 1 suffered a bruised forehead, cuts of the knees and abrasions of the side when the 1958 coach, headed east, went off the left side of the roadway at a hillcrest and overturned.

The car was heavily damaged in the mishap, which occurred at 9 p. m. Officers said she was cited under a section of the law which prohibits motorists from driving off the opposite side of a highway.

John W. Golden, 16, of Columbiana was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his pickup truck hit the rear of a halted sports convertible operated by Gary E. Carringer, 18, of Youngstown on Route 14 a half mile east of Washingtonville at 3:20 p. m.

Chamber Board Will Skip Sessions In July, August

Following its annual custom, the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday afternoon to dispense with its July and August meetings because of the summer vacation season.

In the two-month interim, business will be left in the hands of the Executive Committee or the board will meet at the call of Alvin T. Babb, president. The next regular meeting will be in September.

The board has followed the custom of a summertime suspension for several years, dispensing with sessions between June and September.

The trustees discussed preparation of a new brochure to explain the East Liverpool area's attractions for business and industry. It would supplant a similar publication issued four years ago which used both pictures and text to explain the natural resources and other factors in the area that would play a part in encouraging a new enterprise to locate here.

The present publication also carries a vast amount of statistical information and maps explaining the city's location and some of its history. It also is used to answer inquiries for general information about the area.

The board authorized formation of a new committee to handle such activities as tourist promotion and "civic awareness."

C. W. Ashbaugh, first vice president of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, reported that the industrial development group plans to make an opinion survey of its contributing members this summer to sound them out on future support. The UOVDC, which has headquarters in Steubenville, has been without an executive director since Walter Meyers resigned early this year.

Ralph W. Betts, reporting for the public education committee, listed data on a recent meeting of the group, in which it discussed the dinner it held on May 21 as a tribute to the outstanding graduates of five area high schools. It was reported letters of thanks have been received from several of the seniors who were honored.

The committee paid tribute to graduates in the top 10 per cent of their classes at East Liverpool, Chester, Newell, Beaver Local and South Side High Schools.

The board enacted a resolution of respect and sympathy for the family of T. Fred Edwards, immediate past president of the Chamber, who died June 2.

E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, reported on a recent campaign in which more than 50 new members were enrolled. The board approved a list of the new members presented by the membership committee. Chandler also reported on the annual spring dinner meeting held May 28.

J. Norman Nicely reported on a meeting of the civic and community affairs committee held Monday. Recent activities of the East Liverpool Merchants Association were reviewed by Don Eckert.

FAA Warns On 707 Jets

Cotter Pin, Bolt Hinted As Cause Of Air Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mechanic's oversight, a tiny cotter pin and a bolt less than an inch long could have been the ingredients of disaster in the New York crash of a jet airliner, the Federal Aviation Agency says.

Ninety-five people were killed when the American Airlines Boeing 707 plunged into Jamaica Bay on March 1, seconds after taking off from Idlewild Airport.

The FAA said the bolt, part of a complex rudder mechanism, may have slipped out of place when a nut securing it fell off—for lack of the little cotter pin.

The agency wired airlines and other organizations that fly 707 jets Tuesday, warning them of the potential danger spot. One such warning went to the Military Air Transport Service, which operates the Boeing jets used by President Kennedy and other government leaders.

George C. Prill, director of the FAA flight standards service, said the New York crash "could have been the result of an installation mistake by one man on one aircraft."

"We do not see this as a possible explanation for any other 707 crash about which we have any information," he said. "But it would not be the first time that an airplane crashed because a mechanic left a cotter pin out of a bolt.

"You cannot say this is it—we can never prove it happened even though it could have happened."

Prill said the Civil Aeronautics Board still is investigating the New York crash and will make the final decision on the probable cause.

Midland Class Of '52 Plans Reunion Sept. 8

A reunion of the Class of 1952 of Midland Lincoln High School will be held Sept. 8 at 6:30 p. m. at the St. Anthony Club home.

The committee includes Anthony Bernardi, class president; Miss Ann Vidakovich, secretary; Mrs. Helen Relic Reider, historian; Mrs. Elizabeth Migliore Galli, Mrs. Frances Roman Davis, Mrs. Louise Roman Giura, Mrs. Marian Jergons Ulizio, Mrs. Carl Spisak Monac, Thomas Tonkovich and Frank Timblin.

Class members who have not been contacted are to call Mrs. Ulizio at MI. 3-2556. Another planning meeting will be held July 27 at the New Riviera Restaurant.

British Conductor, Composer Dies At 69

LONDON (AP) — Sir Eugene Goossens, 69, British conductor and composer, died today in a Middlesex hospital after a brief illness.

He conducted the Rochester (N.Y.) Philharmonic from 1923 to 1931 and the Cincinnati Symphony from 1931 to 1947. He also had made guest appearances with most other major American orchestras, including the New York Philharmonic and the Philadelphia, Boston and San Francisco symphonies.

Goossens became ill while vacationing in Switzerland. He was flown to London and taken to the hospital Tuesday night.

Engineers Local Foe Hits System On Officer Vote

CLEVELAND (AP) — A spokesman for an opposition group of Operating Engineers Local 18 has charged the system under which 9,200 union members are voting for new officers is a "travesty on the election."

"There is no way of checking who votes and whether ballots are coming from unauthorized persons," Melvin Jackfert of Cleveland said Tuesday.

Jackfert represents rebel members of the union trying to unseat Frank P. Converse as general business manager. Converse, 76, has held top office in the union for 40 years.

The election in the statewide organization started June 10 and ends June 20. Votes being cast by secret ballot through the mail will be counted in Columbus.

William C. Brewer, engineer from Dayton, is opposing Converse for the business manager post. William Shimman of Toledo is opposing John Possehl for the presidency of Local 18.

Woman, Man Killed In Headon Collision

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two residents of the Portage Lakes area south of Akron were killed in a headon collision early today.

Dead were Mrs. Marilynn Johnson Shannon, 34, a teacher in the Manchester school system, and Robert Johnson, 24.

Sheriff's deputies said the two were alone in their cars when the vehicles collided on Vanderhoof Road in Franklin Twp.

Khedda Rejects Revising Of Algeria Peace Accord

TUNIS (AP)—Algerian nationalist Premier Youssef Ben Khedda categorically rejected today the possibility of revising the Algerian peace agreements to give further guarantees to European residents.

The head of the Algerian provisional government charged that "a series of maneuvers" is being made "in an attempt to sabotage the Evian (peace) agreements by making it appear possible they can be revised under the pretext of giving additional guarantees to the Europeans."

"My government categorically excludes this possibility," Ben Khedda said.

Ben Khedda, who made his statement as he left for Cairo, said, "The return of real peace can only be realized through the loyal application of the accords concluded at Evian."

Ben Khedda's statement came after two weeks of contacts between representatives of Algeria's European minority and members of the Algerian provisional executive body which is governing the North African territory until the July 1 self-determination referendum.

The European Secret Army Organization, trying to preserve French rule in Algeria, let up on its killing of Moslems when the secret contacts were begun. The secret army recently intensified scorched earth tactics, destroying schools and other installations by fire and explosives.

Ben Khedda's declaration may be followed by a resumption of large-scale murder of Moslems by the European terrorists.

Oil Executive Fatally Shot By Brother Of His Secretary

NEW YORK (AP)—Taylor S. Gay, $90,000-a-year oil company executive, has died of a bullet wound inflicted by the strict and protective brother of his spinster secretary whom he had been dating.

"This was no love affair," moaned the secretary, Mary Mullooly, 42, who has walked with a limp since childhood. "The most I ever did was kiss him on occasion."

"Our relationship was only a platonic friendship," she said when word came that Gay, 55, had died Tuesday at Beekman-Downtown Hospital 20 hours after he was shot.

Gay's wife, Berta, 45, from whom he had been legally separated for five years, said just before he died: "They tell me that there's not very much to hope but I'm praying for him. As for his relationship with Miss Mullooly, there is no relationship.

"Taylor Gay isn't that kind of man. He's always been a very chivalrous man. So he took a girl out to dinner—is that so terrible?"

Miss Mullooly's brother James —41 years old, 6 feet 4 and 260 pounds—has been quoted by police as saying: "The man needed killing. I took it upon myself. I'm a religious man. I didn't like the idea of a married man going around with my sister."

Miss Mullooly told newsmen about her life with her father who was a strict disciplinarian and with her brother who took over after the father died.

Gay, a vice president of the Phillips Petroleum Co. and head of its New York operations, was on the operating table at the hospital for five hours but doctors were unable to remove the .25-caliber bullet from his stomach. He was given 43 pints of blood.

His wife and their daughter, Georgeanne, 19, who live in Manhasset on Long Island, were at the hospital when he died.

Beaver Local Resets Public School Airings

A third in a series of Beaver Local School District public meetings to acquaint district residents with school operations has been postponed until autumn, school officials have announced.

A number of such meetings is planned for the next term as a continuation of discussion of school programs, procedures and policies, George VanHorne, executive head, said.

The Apostle Paul, in his Epistle to the Romans (Rom. 8:31), said "If God be for us, who can be against us."

20 Attend St. Clair Civil Defense Session

Twenty attended a meeting of the St. Clair Township Civil Defense group Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

Plans were made for a fire drill and mass feeding demonstration June 24, with the place to be announced.

Joe Arcuragi discussed fires. Herman Heiney, director, presided.

A public meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Glenmoor fire hall. The group is seeking new members.

Good Old 32nd

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Tucson City Council is convinced that 16 residents of the southern Arizona city have no romance in their hearts. The council changed the name of East 32nd Street to Valentine Lane. The 16 residents protested and demanded the old name be returned.

Oil Executive Fatally Shot By Brother Of His Secretary

NEW YORK (AP)—Taylor S. Gay, $90,000-a-year oil company executive, has died of a bullet wound inflicted by the strict and protective brother of his spinster secretary whom he had been dating.

"This was no love affair," moaned the secretary, Mary Mullooly, 42, who has walked with a limp since childhood. "The most I ever did was kiss him on occasion."

"Our relationship was only a platonic friendship," she said when word came that Gay, 55, had died Tuesday at Beekman-Downtown Hospital 20 hours after he was shot.

Gay's wife, Berta, 45, from whom he had been legally separated for five years, said just before he died: "They tell me that there's not very much to hope but I'm praying for him. As for his relationship with Miss Mullooly, there is no relationship.

"Taylor Gay isn't that kind of man. He's always been a very chivalrous man. So he took a girl out to dinner—is that so terrible?"

Miss Mullooly's brother James —41 years old, 6 feet 4 and 260 pounds—has been quoted by police as saying: "The man needed killing. I took it upon myself. I'm a religious man. I didn't like the idea of a married man going around with my sister."

Miss Mullooly told newsmen about her life with her father who was a strict disciplinarian and with her brother who took over after the father died.

Gay, a vice president of the Phillips Petroleum Co. and head of its New York operations, was on the operating table at the hospital for five hours but doctors were unable to remove the .25-caliber bullet from his stomach. He was given 43 pints of blood.

His wife and their daughter, Georgeanne, 19, who live in Manhasset on Long Island, were at the hospital when he died.

Beaver Local Resets Public School Airings

A third in a series of Beaver Local School District public meetings to acquaint district residents with school operations has been postponed until autumn, school officials have announced.

A number of such meetings is planned for the next term as a continuation of discussion of school programs, procedures and policies, George VanHorne, executive head, said.

The Apostle Paul, in his Epistle to the Romans (Rom. 8:31), said "If God be for us, who can be against us."

20 Attend St. Clair Civil Defense Session

Twenty attended a meeting of the St. Clair Township Civil Defense group Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

Plans were made for a fire drill and mass feeding demonstration June 24, with the place to be announced.

Joe Arcuragi discussed fires. Herman Heiney, director, presided.

A public meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Glenmoor fire hall. The group is seeking new members.

2 Others To Be In Europe

Pro-Red Prince To Head Laos Regime At Present

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Already sniping at "American warmongers," pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong will take temporary command of Laos' new coalition government late this month.

Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier designate of the new government, said Tuesday he and right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan will be in Europe at the same time. During their absence, he said, "the whole burden of state affairs will fall on Souphanouvong."

Phoumi, like Souphanouvong slated to become a deputy premier, will lead a Cabinet delegation to Switzerland June 24 or 25 to ratify the 14-nation Geneva agreement on Laos pledging the little Southeast Asian nation to neutrality in the cold war.

Souvanna said he is going to France to attend the wedding of his daughter.

Just what powers Souphanouvong will be able to wield while running Laos was not clear. The bulk of the Cabinet posts are invested in neutralists, and the coalition agreement stipulates that all decisions related to the ministries of defense, interior and foreign affairs must have the unanimous agreement of the three faction leaders—Souvanna, Souphanouvong and Phoumi.

Souvanna, Souphanouvong's half brother and ally in precoalition maneuvering, welcomed the American pressure that forced the right-wing Vientiane regime to give way to the coalition. But Souphanouvong has shown no softening in his anti-American position.

The next step in what the United States hopes will take Laos out of the cold war will be for Souvanna to present the new government to King Savang Vathana. He plans to do this in the royal capital of Luang Prabang Monday.

Prince Boun Oum, the prime minister of the pro-Western royal government in Vientiane, flew with Gen. Phoumi to Luang Prabang today to submit his government's resignation.

Phoumi's delegation to Geneva will sign a pledge of neutrality agreed upon 13 months ago by such big powers as the United States, the Soviet Union, Great Britain, Red China and France.

NASA, Cleveland Newspaper Will Offer Space Fair

CLEVELAND (AP) — A space science fair — the most comprehensive ever staged by the Nation- Aeronautics and Space Administration — will be presented this fall by the agency and the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The exposition, representing months of planning with top officials at NASA headquarters in Washington, will be twice as large as the Seattle World Fair space exhibit.

On display will be space vehicles from finished Project Mercury capsules to Apollo vehicles, still in the model stage but destined to land on the moon. Moves about space, special speakers, and special programs for young people and schools also will be featured.

Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of NASA's Lewis Research Center here, is chairman of the fair. Thomas V. H. Vail, vice president of the Forest City Publishing Co., publisher of the Plain Dealer, is co-chairman.

The exposition, scheduled to open Thanksgiving Day will occupy 30,000 square feet in Public Hall.

Auto Check Planned By Club At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A free auto safety check will be offered by the Ruritan Club in inspections to be held Thursday and Friday nights from 5:30 to 8 on Washington St.

Club members will check brakes, lights, steering, turn signals, rearview mirror, tires, windows, exhaust system and horn, and either issue a safety sticker or advise motorists of the need for corrections.

Materials for the check are provided by the Hart Motor Co., Bob Cole of the club said.

Firm's Head Quits, Admits 'Unauthorized Withdrawals'

NEW YORK (AP) — The E.L. Bruce Co., manufacturer of hardwood flooring, has announced that Edward M. Gilbert resigned as president and director after admitting "unauthorized withdrawals from the corporation in the amount of $1,953,000."

E. L. Bruce Jr., chairman of the company, said Gilbert had disclosed the withdrawals to the directors at a meeting Tuesday.

Bruce said they had taken place from May 28 to June 6. May 28 was the Monday on which the stock market experienced its worst decline since 1929.

In a statement issued later, Gilbert defended his actions and said he had made the disclosures voluntarily.

"The actions I have taken were directed to the protection of an acquisition program on behalf of the corporation, and in my judgment were in the best interests of the corporation and its stockholders," Gilbert said.

"I adhere to that judgment, confident in the belief that it was and is correct," he added.

Gilbert, 38, said he had resigned "to permit the board to have a free hand to take such action with respect to those matters as it deemed advisable."

Bruce's statement said the company had retained special counsel to submit the facts of the case to the Securities and Exchange Commission and the American Stock Exchange, where the company's stock is traded.

Bruce said the company is covered by a surety bond of $750,000. He added that the company's prospects are bright and that sales are 30 per cent higher than last year.

Bruce was the most active stock on the exchange Tuesday, dropping 3¼ points to the year's low of 15⅜ on volume of 39,000 shares. Its high for the year was 37⅝.

The company's 1961 sales totaled $42 million.

Gilbert became president of the Bruce company last September upon its merger with Empire National Corp., of which he was an officer.

The company has its headquarters in New York and plants in Memphis and Nashville, Tenn.; Little Rock, Ark.; Bruce, Laurel and Columbus, Miss.; Cairo, Ill.; Vredenburg, Ala., and Center, Tex.

Sweden's first auto - carrying passenger train is now being operated by the Swedish State Railroads between Stockholm and Malmo.

Man Who Ate Wire In Hash Gets $1,325

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday awarded $1,325 to a Lisbon man who said he swallowed a piece of steel wire while eating at a local restaurant.

Raymond Reese, 226 W. Washington St., was awarded this sum by a jury which deliberated an hour. He had asked $10,000 from the Hillyer IGA Foodliner. He said the wire caught in his throat while he was eating hash in November 1960.

The trial began Monday morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

2 Others To Be In Europe

Pro-Red Prince To Head Laos Regime At Present

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Already sniping at "American warmongers," pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong will take temporary command of Laos' new coalition government late this month.

Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier designate of the new government, said Tuesday he and right-wing leader Gen. Phoumi Nosavan will be in Europe at the same time. During their absence, he said, "the whole burden of state affairs will fall on Souphanouvong."

Phoumi, like Souphanouvong slated to become a deputy premier, will lead a Cabinet delegation to Switzerland June 24 or 25 to ratify the 14-nation Geneva agreement on Laos pledging the little Southeast Asian nation to neutrality in the cold war.

Souvanna said he is going to France to attend the wedding of his daughter.

Just what powers Souphanouvong will be able to wield while running Laos was not clear. The bulk of the Cabinet posts are invested in neutralists, and the coalition agreement stipulates that all decisions related to the ministries of defense, interior and foreign affairs must have the unanimous agreement of the three faction leaders—Souvanna, Souphanouvong and Phoumi.

Souvanna, Souphanouvong's half brother and ally in precoalition maneuvering, welcomed the American pressure that forced the right-wing Vientiane regime to give way to the coalition. But Souphanouvong has shown no softening in his anti-American position.

7 Instructors Employed By Lisbon Board

LISBON -- The Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday evening hired seven teachers and a high school secretary and accepted resignations of four instructors.

Employed were Mrs. Thelma Anderson of New Waterford, high school English, a Youngstown University graduate with a year's teaching experience; James Ferguson of New Philadelphia, graduate of Steubenville College, eight years in industrial work, high school biology and general science; Richard Jones of East Liverpool, Bowling Green State University graduate, junior high science; Otto Ramlow of Rocky Creek, Kent State University graduate with three years teaching experience, junior high science, driver training and coaching; Miss Betty Hinman of Olmstead Falls, Ohio State University graduate, junior high English and home economics; Mrs. Louise Jones of Lisbon, Ohio State graduate, kindergarten, and Miss Lynn Elliott of Rogers, Kent State graduate, fourth grade. Miss Judy Ramsey of Lisbon got the secretary's position.

Resigning were Mrs. Janet Watson, first grade; Mrs. Virginia Smeltzer, seventh; Miss Edna Russell, high school English, and Carl Flitcraft Jr., high school math.

In other business, the board agreed to use the Stackhouse property on E. Chestnut St. as an office and storage building. The house is in good shape and will need only lighting and possibly painting of the walls to convert it for office space, central storage and for curriculum material space.

Five residents discussed with the board the Stackhouse property and the possible costs of utilizing another building.

They came to a figure of between $990 to $1,200 to operate the building for a year and agreed that if it is not used, and is torn down, the board will loose about $12,000 outright. Supt. Russell Armitage discussed the need of additional office space at one of the schools and four rooms and said it would cost around $24,000 if added to a present building.

A contract was awarded to Rex Teagarden to modify the shower room at Lincoln School for $160—material $60 and labor $100.

The Paramount Industrial Products of Cleveland was given a contract to furnish material for the roof of the gymnasium on a bid of $1,402, with labor to be furnished by a local contractor.

The board authorized expenditure of $1,492 to match Title III national defense funds to obtain books for the new library at McKinley School, science materials for the high school, Lincoln and McKinley and science kits for the lower grades.

A barn on property purchased for the McKinley playground was ordered sold and payment of $65 for a survey completed by George Gonsales was ordered paid. Student dictionaries will be bought for pupils in the upper elementary grades at both schools, with the pupils to purchase them at cost.

Accepted was a bid from McCamon's Garage to put five school buses in shape for next term at a cost of $2,075.

An industrial arts project was discussed but tabled until later. New bids will be asked from two contractors for clearing and grading the new playground at McKinley school. The board was not able to give the exact amount of grading necessary. The bidders will be Rose Construction and the Adams Co.

Supt. Armitage was authorized to advertise for bids for gasoline and oil for school buses for the coming year.

Next meeting is July 10.

Woman Favored By Jury Vote In Husband's Death

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Industrial Commission, the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation and the Goodyear Atomic Corp. didn't believe Herbert L. Smith Jr.'s death was brought on by radiation.

Mrs. Ruby Smith Donathan said it was.

Nine jurors out of 12 decided Tuesday Mrs. Donathan was right.

The jury ruled Mrs. Donathan, Smith's widow now remarried and living in Tampa, Fla., is entitled to State Industrial Commission death payments she said she was denied.

Smith died in February 1957 of acute lymphatic leukemia allegedly caused by his coming in contact with radioactive material at the Pike County atomic energy plant while working on a seal in a pipe in 1956.

The Industrial Commission disallowed her claim for state industrial insurance, contending there was no evidence Smith's death was directly attributable to radiation at the plant.

An appeal is expected.

Angels Knock Twins Off Top, Trail Only By 1½ Games

Giants Snap Losing Streak By Taking Two From Reds

Yanks Nip Detroit To Regain 1st

By MIKE RATHET
By The Associated Press

The fourth place Los Angeles Angels crept within a game and a half of the first-place New York Yankees Tuesday night and Lee Thomas provided the punch in a 7-5 victory over Minnesota.

The 26-year-old left-handed swinger hit his eighth and ninth homers against the Twins, connecting with one on in the third and tagging another with the bases empty in the seventh.

The defeat dropped the Twins from the league lead into third place. The Yankees took over the top spot with a 2-1 triumph over Detroit. Cleveland, rained out at Washington, moved percentage points ahead of Minnesota into second place.

Kansas City edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1 on Dave Wickersham's three-hitter and Boston squeezed by Baltimore 4-3 in other games.

Although Thomas provided the fireworks for the Angels, it took a three-run outburst in the sixth inning to snap a 3-3 tie and subdue the Twins. Felix Torres' single drove in the tie-breaker as the Angels got the benefit of four walks in the inning.

Bill Stafford (6-3) held the Tigers to three hits until the ninth when singles by Rocky Colavito, Vic Wertz and Chico Fernandez scored a run and snapped a string of 25 scoreless innings compiled by the Yankee right-hander. Roger Maris hit home run No. 11, in the third inning after the Yanks had moved ahead in the first on Phil Linz' single, a sacrifice by Bobby Richardson and Johnny Blanchard's single. The loser was Yankee nemesis Frank Lary (1-4), now 28-11 lifetime against New York.

Wickersham, reliever turned starter, won his fourth against one loss as a front-liner with a three-hitter for the A's and brought his over-all record to an impressive 7-2. White Sox starter Juan Pizzaro (3-5), who allowed only eight hits, lost it when a single by Manny Jimenez, Gino Cimoli's triple and a single by Joe Azcue scored two runs in the eighth.

Frank Malzone drove in the first three Red Sox runs with a single and two-run homer. Carroll Hardy knocked in the clincher with a double in the third and robbed Jim Gentile of a grand slam homer in the Sixth. Boston's Gary Geiger cut down the potential tying run in the ninth by throwing Dick Williams out at the plate, preserving the triumph for Ike Delock (1-0). Jack Fisher (1-2) lost it.

W. Va. Derby To Waterford

WHEELING — The West Virginia Derby, originally scheduled Friday night at Wheeling Downs, has been postponed and will be moved to Waterford Park.

The decision was announced by James F. Edwards, Waterford Park owner and a major stockholder in Wheeling Downs. Edwards said the transfer will signal the start of an intensive effort to build up the Derby into a race of major stature so that it can attract some of the "name" three year olds in the country.

The race probably will be run at Waterford late in the summer meeting which will open July 2 and continue through September 3.

Palmer Is 5-1 Favorite To Win 62nd U.S. Open

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKMONT, Pa., (AP)—Arnold Palmer, his confidence booming again like his rocket-ride drives, is a 5-1 favorite to gain the second leg of professional golf's grand slam in the 62nd U.S. Open championship beginning Thursday at the Rugged Oakmont Country Club course.

"I'm out of the slump with my irons, if that's what it was, and my finger isn't bad at all," said the bronzed Masters champion from close-by Latrobe, Pa., after firing a 2-under-par 69 in his last major warmup on the 6,894-yard, par 36-35 — 71 course he has played on and off since he was a youngster.

"You could say I'm driving and putting pretty well. If my finger doesn't get any worse, it's not going to restrict me at all. The only time it really hurts is when I'm signing autographs."

Two stitches came loose Tuesday in the inch-long gash Palmer suffered on the ring finger of his right hand Sunday night while he was putting luggage into the trunk of his car. "I pulled 'em out," he said, "and it's a little tender but I don't think it'll need to be sewn up again."

Support continues strong for defending champion Gene Littler, despite an estimated 82 in his first look at Oakmont, and such other tournament-tested stars as Billy Casper, Gary Player, Dow Finsterwald, Mike Souchak, Doug Sanders, Doug Ford, Jack Nicklaus, and, of course, ol' Samuel Jackson Snead, who will make his 22nd try for his first Open title.

Palmer, who is trying to complete the Masters — U.S. Open-British Open-U.S. PGA grand slam this year, feels the winning score will be close to 280—four under par for the 72 holes and three strokes less than the great Ben Hogan used here in winning his last of four Open championships in 1953.

"I think it'll be right around 280," Arnold said. "I know I'll feel more than satisfied if I can shoot that."

Braves Bomb LA; Bucs Nip Chicago

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Halting the tailspin which dropped them out of the National League lead, the San Francisco Giants snapped their six-game losing streak Tuesday night, sweeping a doubleheader from Cincinnati 2-1 and 7-5 and moved back within a game of the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Dodgers, rolling with seven victories in nine games and 20 in 24, ran into a 17-hit, five-homer Milwaukee outburst behind Lew Burdette's six-hit pitching and lost a game and a half of their lead with a 15-2 clobbering by the Braves.

The defending champion Reds fell from third place to fifth. Pittsburgh moved into third, 7½ behind, by edging the Chicago Cubs 4-3 and St. Louis nipped Philadelphia 3-2 to take over fourth. Houston defeated New York's Mets 3-2.

Juan Marichal (9-4) checked the Reds on seven hits in the opener and drove in the winning run in a two-run seventh inning surge that put it away for the Giants.

Orlando Cepeda drove in four runs for the Giants in the nightcap with two homers—a three-run shot in the first and a solo in the fifth that eventually proved to be the deciding run. Moe Drabowsky (1-5) was the loser.

Burdette, (4-4), recording his second complete game in a row and fourth consecutive triumph, retired 19 in a row at one stretch while the Braves were pounding Johnny Podres (3-5) and two successors. Hank Aaron, who had three hits, and Ed Mathews each hit home run No. 11 and Gus Bell, Frank Bolling and Tommie Aaron also connected. Mathews' homer was the 381st of his career, tying him for eighth place with the Yankees' Mickey Mantle.

Outhit by the Cubs 11-8, the Pirates scored two runs in the first and two in the second for their fourth victory in a row.

The Pirates then held on behind Harvey Haddix (5-2) and relief ace ElRoy Face. Glen Hobbie (1-8) lost it.

Rookie Fred Whitfield tagged a two-run homer off Paul Brown (0-5) in the eighth inning to win it for the Cardinals. Brown had opened the seventh with a double and scored to put the Phillies in front 2-1. The victory, the eighth in nine games for St. Louis, went to former Phil Don Ferrarese (1-2).

Joe Amalfitano's single drove in pinch runner Roman Mejias with the winning run and climaxed a two-run uprising in the last of the ninth that gave the Colts their victory over the Mets. An infield single by Billy Goodman and Pidge Browne's pinch-hit triple off Craig Anderson (3-6) preceded Amalfitano's game-winner. Ken Johnson (4-6) was the winner.

Yanks Nip Detroit To Regain 1st

By MIKE RATHET
By The Associated Press

The fourth place Los Angeles Angels crept within a game and a half of the first-place New York Yankees Tuesday night and Lee Thomas provided the punch in a 7-5 victory over Minnesota.

The 26-year-old left-handed swinger hit his eighth and ninth homers against the Twins, connecting with one on in the third and tagging another with the bases empty in the seventh.

The defeat dropped the Twins from the league lead into third place. The Yankees took over the top spot with a 2-1 triumph over Detroit. Cleveland, rained out at Washington, moved percentage points ahead of Minnesota into second place.

Kansas City edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1 on Dave Wickersham's three-hitter and Boston squeezed by Baltimore 4-3 in other games.

Although Thomas provided the fireworks for the Angels, it took a three-run outburst in the sixth inning to snap a 3-3 tie and subdue the Twins. Felix Torres' single drove in the tie-breaker as the Angels got the benefit of four walks in the inning.

Bill Stafford (6-3) held the Tigers to three hits until the ninth when singles by Rocky Colavito, Vic Wertz and Chico Fernandez scored a run and snapped a string of 25 scoreless innings compiled by the Yankee right-hander. Roger Maris hit home run No. 11, in the third inning after the Yanks had moved ahead in the first on Phil Linz' single, a sacrifice by Bobby Richardson and Johnny Blanchard's single. The loser was Yankee nemesis Frank Lary (1-4), now 28-11 lifetime against New York.

Wickersham, reliever turned starter, won his fourth against one loss as a front-liner with a three-hitter for the A's and brought his over-all record to an impressive 7-2. White Sox starter Juan Pizzaro (3-5), who allowed only eight hits, lost it when a single by Manny Jimenez, Gino Cimoli's triple and a single by Joe Azcue scored two runs in the eighth.

Frank Malzone drove in the first three Red Sox runs with a single and two-run homer. Carroll Hardy knocked in the clincher with a double in the third and robbed Jim Gentile of a grand slam homer in the Sixth. Boston's Gary Geiger cut down the potential tying run in the ninth by throwing Dick Williams out at the plate, preserving the triumph for Ike Delock (1-0). Jack Fisher (1-2) lost it.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R.L. LIDE

Fishing continues remarkably good at Lake Guilford, with crappies and bluegills providing the most action. The hot spots seem to be off the retaining walls on the east and south section of the lake.

It is not uncommon to see fishermen with 50 or more crappies and bluegills on their stringers, although they are not all large fish. One fisherman kept all the 8-to-10-inch crappies and gave way dozens of smaller ones to anyone who wanted them.

FISHERMEN know the quality of the bluegills at Guilford are much improved over what has been the rule for the last 10 years.

The bluegills average 6 inches in length and upward to 8 inches. At present, there is no reason why shore fishermen cannot catch enough 'gills and crappies to feed the family fresh fish. Don't let anyone kid you when the remark is made, "The fish are soft this time of the year and not so good."

Once they are cleaned and fried in deep fat there is no difference in the flavor. Personally, I like to have enough shortening in the skillet to float the fish when being fried. This way they are firmly fried and browned well on all sides.

At Zepernick Lake, plenty of bluegills are being taken, along with bullhead catfish. Fishing after dark is the best time to go for bullheads.

I have suggested to the fish management section that the fishing pier be moved more toward the back side of the lake where the fishermen can get at the bluegills a little better. Most of them are taken in this area, where there are plenty of natural fish shelters, along with spatter dock called lilly pads.

—:—

THERE ARE plenty of bass in Zepernick's. However, there are so many stumps and logs that most of the big bass get away. Persistent fishermen get their share, but it is not always easy.

Turtle hunters who feel them out under the stream banks have been getting their share and then some. Since the streams are low it is fairly easy to get at them.

The season on frogs will open at 6 p. m. June 15, Zepernick Lake was stocked with frogs about five years ago and they can be heard towards sundown and on into the night. There are also a few in Guilford around the bank willows, but not exactly easy picking.

I checked a spot on Beaver Creek recently where there is a fairly good population of frogs and this same colony has been in existence for several years. Evidently the frog hunters do not know about them and I don't intend to pinpoint the location. Hunt your own.

RARELY DO wild animals abandon their young as orphans. But at this time of year baby animals are picked up in the wild and taken home by well-meaning people.

Rather than saving the life of a cute animal, and they are cute, the end result is usually unfortunate. Baby animals are difficult to raise, and they often die. The ones that live become semi-tame and are easy prey for predators when released.

In addition, it's against the law to have a wild animal pet unless it was taken legally during the open hunting season or acquired from a commercial propagator. "Adopting" wildlife is punishable by a maximum fine of $200 for each offense.

Usually when you find a baby animal, his parent is concealed nearby. Just as soon as you leave, the parent will again assume the job of taking care of it. If you do find young animals near a dead parent, then call me at this number Damascus JE 74282.

By not adopting wild babies, you will do them and yourself a favor.

ACE FREEMAN (left) will attempt to upset "The Crusher" when the two meet in the featured match Thursday at Beaver Local High School in a professional wrestling show sponsored by the Boosters Club. Stafford Hasn't Walked Anybody In 33 Innings

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Stafford's string of 25 scoreless innings has been broken but the New York Yankee right-hander couldn't care less.

"I didn't even know I had it," Stafford said in the clubhouse Tuesday night, still elated after a 2-1 victory over Frank Lary and the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers finally broke through with a run after two were out in the ninth.

The thing that Stafford was most pleased about was the fact that he didn't walk anybody. Yankee press box statisticians said he hadn't walked anybody in the last 33 innings.

"If I walk over 65 men in a season I think I have had a bad year," he said. "If you look it up, you'll find I walked exactly 100 in 406 innings, counting a few months in Richmond and three years with the Yanks."

Stafford, only 23, appears to be headed for his top year in the majors with a 6-3 record. In the last four starts he has allowed a total of only 20 hits and seven runs. Only two of the runs were earned.

100-Lap Invitational Race Slated At Clinton Tonight

Roy Robbins of Louisville, Ky., Mickey Shaw of Berea, Ohio, Johnny Mackinson and Bobby Hersh of York, Pa., and Chuck Yost of Elyria, headline a field of over fifty Super Modified Cars that will appear at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway tonight for the Pittsburgh Invitational 100-lap super modified race.

Other top notch entries from around the country include Ed Weisman, Joe Conroy and Mack Clingan, Cleveland, Russ Smith, Cincinnati, Larry Merick, Dodge City, Kan., Steve Unger of Niles, Dale Johnson, Hartford, Ted Weis and Henry Jacoby, Franklin, Pa.

Entries from Butler Speedway include Frank Gorsky, Stan Hover, Bob Burris and Ralph Quarterson.

West Virginia will be represented by Paul Reed, Fred Johnson, and John Rosenberg of Morgantown, Gary McCauley and Gene Tallman of Clarksburg.

Tom Murray of Granite City, Ill. will bring two cars.

Gus Linder, Lou Blaney, Jim Seese, Bob Adamson Rich Bauman, Pete Cassela, Dick Bailey and Len Birmingham are but a few of the drivers that will represent the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway in the battle for the big money.

Time trials start at 7:00 with racing getting underway at 8:45.

Jim Pollard Fired As Coach Of Packers

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Packers of the National Basketball Association were seeking a new head coach today after firing Jim Pollard.

Pollard was dismissed Tuesday and then was offered a job as assistant to General Manager Frank Lane. However, it was believed Pollard would refuse the new position.

The Packers also announced they would play their 1962-63 home games in the Chicago Coliseum instead of the International Amphitheatre.

Frisco Receives Good Pitching In Twinbill

CINCINNATI (AP) — The San Francisco Giants had just won a doubleheader, breaking a six game losing streak and climbing back to within a game of the National League lead.

Manager Alvin Dark was quietly elated at the turn in luck, which dropped the Cincinnati Reds from third to fifth place Tuesday night, but that was all. He sized up the pennant race this way:

"This is a year when you never know what will happen."

The Giants, who lost the league lead to Los Angeles during their losing streak, beat the Reds in a twi-nighter, 2-1 and 7-5.

Fine pitching by Juan Marichal and Mike McCormick, and the home run hitting of Orlando Cepeda were keys to San Francisco's double victory. Cepeda got his 16th and 17th homers in the second game and drove in four runs.

Marichal not only pitched fine ball but also drove in the winning run in the first game.

"Any time you get good pitching, the team is going to look good," Dark said after the games.

"Marichal was great, and so was McCormick."

Ireland's Carr Favored In British Amateur Play

HOYLAKE, England (AP)—Joe Carr, the golfing pride of Ireland, was a clear favorite today to win the British Amateur championship for the fourth time—with 12 Americans still among those trying to stop him.

England's Michael Bonallack, last year's winner and top seed, was shocked into a 2 and 1 defeat Tuesday by a young Irishman, Jackson Taggart. The experts predicted that with Bonallack gone, no one would be able to hold the big hitting Carr on this course of long flat fairways.

The 40-year-old Irishman, who won the title in 1953, 1958 and 1960 was scheduled to meet John Langridge, a little known English player, in the third round.

Robert Sweeny, 50, of Palm Beach, Fla., who won this title in 1937, met John Glocer of Northern Ireland in the second round.

David Goldman, 53, of Dallas, Tex., who was runner up to Lawson Little in the American Amateur of 1934, was matched against R. E. Rimmer of England in the third round.

Goldman reached the final of the French Amateur last week.

Baltimore Granted Franchise In AHL

CLEVELAND (AP) — Professional hockey returns to Baltimore next season after a six-year absence.

The American Hockey League's board of governors Tuesday granted the city a franchise, making it the ninth team in the league.

Other teams in the league are Buffalo, Cleveland, Hershey, Pittsburgh, Providence, Quebec, Rochester and Springfield.

Georgetown Nine, Frankfort On Top

In junior team play of the South Side Hot Stove League Monday, Frankfort Springs defeated Hookstown 7-6, Georgetown defeated Hanover Township 31-2 and Newell defeated Shippingport 28-0.

All of Tuesday's games were rained out and will be played at a later date, Daniel Wright, secretary of the South Side Athletic Club, said.

Stacey Heads Tennis Club

Laurin Stacey of Fairview St. was elected president of the newly organized East Liverpool Tennis Club formed at a meeting Tuesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Association annex.

Further organizational plans will be made at a luncheon meeting of officers and tentatively selected trustees Thursday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Other officers are Arthur L. Turner of Case St., first vice president; Ron Jarvis of Vine St., second vice president; Paul Jarvis of Vine St., secretary, and Collin Neal of Anderson Blvd., treasurer.

Dues were set at $5 annually for the club.

Plans were discussed for observance of National Tennis Week in July, sponsorship of a tennis clinic July 11 by the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. of Pittsburgh, and sponsorship of free clinics for junior boys and girls at the Thompson Park courts.

Plans are also being made for a city tournament.

Free Methodist, St. Ann's Notch Church Victories

First Free Methodist picked up its second straight YMCA-Church League victory with a 14-2 decision over Glenmoor U. P. Tuesday.

Bill Wolfe allowed only two hits in going the distance. Tom Wolfe belted four hits and Bill and Dale Mobley collected three safeties each.

St. Ann's scored a 7-3 victory over Boyce Methodist as slugging Tom Ferlaino hit two doubles for the winners. Jim Zubick came up with three hits for Boyce.

In another game, unbeaten Calvary Methodist nearly knocked the cover off the ball in bombing St. Aloysius, 33-10, at the Beaver Local diamond.

Cannon hurled the victory and collected six hits at the plate, while Jim Dickey had five hits and Wright went four-for-four. "Jolting" John Fitzjohn and Woody Pusey blasted homers for the winners.

Pitcher Pat O'Farrell was the victim of Calvary Methodist's second win in succession.

Wellsville Minor Loop To Meet Friday

HOYLAKE, England (AP)—Joe Carr, the golfing pride of Ireland, was a clear favorite today to win the British Amateur championship for the fourth time—with 12 Americans still among those trying to stop him.

England's Michael Bonallack, last year's winner and top seed, was shocked into a 2 and 1 defeat Tuesday by a young Irishman, Jackson Taggart. The experts predicted that with Bonallack gone, no one would be able to hold the big hitting Carr on this course of long flat fairways.

The 40-year-old Irishman, who won the title in 1953, 1958 and 1960 was scheduled to meet John Langridge, a little known English player, in the third round.

Robert Sweeny, 50, of Palm Beach, Fla., who won this title in 1937, met John Glocer of Northern Ireland in the second round.

David Goldman, 53, of Dallas, Tex., who was runner up to Lawson Little in the American Amateur of 1934, was matched against R. E. Rimmer of England in the third round.

Goldman reached the final of the French Amateur last week.

Baltimore Granted Franchise In AHL

CLEVELAND (AP) — Professional hockey returns to Baltimore next season after a six-year absence.

The American Hockey League's board of governors Tuesday granted the city a franchise, making it the ninth team in the league.

Other teams in the league are Buffalo, Cleveland, Hershey, Pittsburgh, Providence, Quebec, Rochester and Springfield.

Georgetown Nine, Frankfort On Top

In junior team play of the South Side Hot Stove League Monday, Frankfort Springs defeated Hookstown 7-6, Georgetown defeated Hanover Township 31-2 and Newell defeated Shippingport 28-0.

All of Tuesday's games were rained out and will be played at a later date, Daniel Wright, secretary of the South Side Athletic Club, said.

Thursday's Game

Dental Society vs. Central Service

Morrow, the winning hurler, limited Central Service to three hits while his teammates banged out six hits. A three - run fourth inning proved the big frame for the winners.

Ron Burns and Stewart with two hits each paced the league leaders. Chetwyn's double was the big blow for the losers.

Stacey Heads Tennis Club

Laurin Stacey of Fairview St. was elected president of the newly organized East Liverpool Tennis Club formed at a meeting Tuesday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Association annex.

Further organizational plans will be made at a luncheon meeting of officers and tentatively selected trustees Thursday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Other officers are Arthur L. Turner of Case St., first vice president; Ron Jarvis of Vine St., second vice president; Paul Jarvis of Vine St., secretary, and Collin Neal of Anderson Blvd., treasurer.

Dues were set at $5 annually for the club.

Plans were discussed for observance of National Tennis Week in July, sponsorship of a tennis clinic July 11 by the Wilson Sporting Goods Co. of Pittsburgh, and sponsorship of free clinics for junior boys and girls at the Thompson Park courts.

Plans are also being made for a city tournament.

Free Methodist, St. Ann's Notch Church Victories

First Free Methodist picked up its second straight YMCA-Church League victory with a 14-2 decision over Glenmoor U. P. Tuesday.

Bill Wolfe allowed only two hits in going the distance. Tom Wolfe belted four hits and Bill and Dale Mobley collected three safeties each.

St. Ann's scored a 7-3 victory over Boyce Methodist as slugging Tom Ferlaino hit two doubles for the winners. Jim Zubick came up with three hits for Boyce.

In another game, unbeaten Calvary Methodist nearly knocked the cover off the ball in bombing St. Aloysius, 33-10, at the Beaver Local diamond.

Cannon hurled the victory and collected six hits at the plate, while Jim Dickey had five hits and Wright went four-for-four. "Jolting" John Fitzjohn and Woody Pusey blasted homers for the winners.

Pitcher Pat O'Farrell was the victim of Calvary Methodist's second win in succession.

Advances In Tennis

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Ohio Wesleyan's Bill Poist, No. 2 seeded player in the 40th annual Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament, advanced through Tuesday's play. Poist defeated John Wolf of Georgetown University, 6-1, 6-2.

Navy Uses Perfume To Sniff Out Thieves

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Navy is using perfume to sniff out gasoline pilferers.

Several thousand gallons of gasoline disappeared from filling stations on the U. S. Naval Base here over a period of months.

So perfume was added to the Navy gas supplies. Gate sentries stop drivers of private cars for questioning if the automobiles smell too sweet as they leave the base.

Navy Uses Perfume To Sniff Out Thieves

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Navy is using perfume to sniff out gasoline pilferers.

Several thousand gallons of gasoline disappeared from filling stations on the U. S. Naval Base here over a period of months.

So perfume was added to the Navy gas supplies. Gate sentries stop drivers of private cars for questioning if the automobiles smell too sweet as they leave the base.

Two College Nines Remain Undefeated

OMAHA (AP)—The bullpen has become a key to the College World Series, and timely hitting combined with speed are added factors in Michigan's favor in its bid for the national championship.

The Wolverines and Florida State, the only unbeaten teams remaining in the double elimination NCAA championships, have a showdown tonight in the tournament's third round. A couple of relievers, Jim Bobel of Michigan and Tom Davis of Florida State, chalked up victories Tuesday night to put their schools alone in the winner's bracket.

Bobel turned in five near perfect innings in relief and Michigan banged out 14 hits in an 11-4 rout of Holy Cross. Florida State also showed bullpen strength in its 5-4 victory that ended little Ithaca's season - long perfect streak at 18 games.

Santa Clara needed Bob Garibaldi's 1-hit relief pitching over 3 1-3 innings to beat Missouri 7-4 in 12 innings. Missouri committed four errors in the 12th and let Santa Clara score three unearned runs.

Texas whacked Colorado State College 12-2 in Tuesday's other game.

Burdette Flashes Form Of '57-'58 Pennant Seasons

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Don't write off veteran Lew Burdette yet. After a slow start because of an ankle injury, the fidgety right-hander is flashing the form which helped Milwaukee Braves to pennants in 1957 and 1958.

Backed by the Braves' heaviest hitting spree of the season, the 35-year-old Burdette breezed to a 15-2 victory over Los Angeles Tuesday night. The defeat cut the Dodgers' National League lead to one game over San Francisco, which swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati 2-1 and 7-5.

"I had good stuff, good control and threw harder than at any time this year," Burdette said. "After we got that big lead (8-1) in the first two innings, though, my job was a lot easier."

Burdette was hit hard and often in losing his first four decisions this season. He suffered a sprained ankle and was sidelined three weeks. Then he was put in the bullpen to pitch his way back into shape.

He has rebounded with four straight victories.

Redlegs Sign Perdue, Ex-Ohio State Star

CINCINNATI (AP) — Former Ohio State football star Tom Perdue will soon be on his way to Tampa, Fla., to play baseball for the Cincinnati Reds organization.

The Reds signed Perdue to a bonus contract Tuesday. Perdue, co-captain of the Buckeyes football team last season, also played three years of baseball as an outfielder at Ohio State.

Fishing Without License Costs 7

LISBON — Seven fisherman were fined $10 and costs for lack of a license in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court at Lisbon Tuesday night. Another received a suspended fine and a ninth received a $15 suspended fine for destroying state property. He burned a sign at Zepernick's Lake which was posted by the state. All were cited by Max Duckworth, assistant game warden.

Fishing without a license were Bill Purdum and Shirley Purdum of Canton, Homer C. Boulton, Daniel J. Boulton and James Kruger of Youngstown, Eulevene Whitehair of Hanoverton and Nobue Bailey of Newell. Barbara Kracher of Alliance received the suspended fine for same offense.

Sam Reighard of Canton was accused of burning a state-erected sign. He told the court the sign was broken and lying on the ground before he threw it on his fire.

T. S. & T. Rallies To Top Tri-State

T.S.&T. trailing 7-1 rallied for nine runs in the last three innings to down Tri-State Appliance 10-7 Tuesday in a Little - Minor League contest.

Mueller and Murray combined to give Tri-State five hits and fanned 14. Sam Natalina the losing hurler fanned 15 batters but gave up eight hits.

Stevens and J. Badgley had two hits each for the winners.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Dave Wickersham, Athletics, won his fourth in five games as a starter after beginning season as relief pitcher, limiting Chicago White Sox to three hits for 2-1 victory.

Batting — Hank Aaron, Braves, went 3-for-3 with 11th homer and two singles, pacing 17-hit attack that overwhelmed National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers 15-2.

Youth In Wrong Lane Killed In Car Mishap

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—An automobile going south in the northbound lanes of a four-lane divided highway—at an estimated 100 miles per hour—carried the driver, a 20-year-old Findlay youth, to his death late Tuesday night.

Michael C. Smith missed one northbound truck, sideswiped a second, then crunched head - on into a third, the highway patrol reported.

The smashed truck turned over in a ditch, its trailer atop it. Smith's car, meanwhile, passed under the trailer, was mashed and also landed in the ditch along U.S. 25 bypass near Van Buren, seven miles north of here.

The truckdriver, Martin Nich, 48, of Chelsea, Mich., was injured.

UAW Local Sets Vote After Averting Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Members of United Auto Workers Local 1250 are to vote Saturday on an agreement on health, safety and production standards for 8,360 employes at Ford Motor Co.'s giant complex in suburban Brook Park.

The settlement was reached Tuesday after 27 hours of bargaining. It averted a walkout at the plant, according to Arthur Kuhns, local 1250 president.

The union had threatened to strike the company's two engine plants and foundry on Brookpark Road if the grievances were not settled.

Lehigh will have co-captains in football next fall. They are Pat Clark of York, Pa., and Charles Gibson of Verona, Pa.

Sets District Office

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A district office of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control will be established here and George A. Kremer of Woodsfield will be in charge. Expected to be operating within a month, the office will administer a 15-county area: Richland, Sandusky, Seneca, Wyandot, Marion, Morrow, Crawford, Knox, Huron, Erie, Ashland, Coshocton, Holmes, Wyane and Medina.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I need an opinion. The women who were with me when this happened were horrified by my "bad manners." Am I guilty or not?

We were having lunch in a fashionable restaurant recently. When I began to eat my salad I noticed something under the lettuce leaf which looked strange. I called the waitress and asked what it was. She said she didn't know but she'd take it to the kitchen and find out.

In a few minutes she returned and said, "The chef says it's a piece of pork hock but no one knows how it got in there." I thanked her and that was the end of the matter.

The next morning three of the women present called to tell me I had violated a rule of etiquette. Yes or No?—WANTS TO KNOW.

Dear Wants: If this incident had occurred in the home of a friend their criticism would be valid. In a restaurant, however, it is perfectly proper to inquire about foreign objects in the food. I assume you did it quietly, however, and that you did not make a federal case of it.

Handicapped Brother

Dear Ann: You seem to have a solution to every problem. I hope you can solve mine.

My 16-year-old brother just got out of a reformatory. Nobody will give him a job when he tells them he has been in reform school. He's afraid not to mention his record because people have a way of finding out things. If he lied in an interview, he surely would be fired when the truth came out.

I'm afraid if my brother doesn't get work soon he'll go back to his old gang and that means trouble. My mother is very worried about him because Dad died three years ago and she can't handle him alone.

Do you think he should stop mentioning his reform school record? Please tell me what is best for him.—SAD SISTER.

Dear Sister: Your brother should go back to high school and get his diploma. His record will be a lesser handicap if he is a high school graduate.

He shouldn't try to hide his past when he applies for a job. Unfortunately, some people will not hire a person with a record but I know the world is filled with good people who are willing to give a guy a second chance.

Only One Regret

Dear Ann: Yoir advice is usually excellent. I hope you will think mine is, too.

When my three children were quite young their father left us. He moped 2,000 miles away but kept in touch with gay, mushy letters and very small support checks. The children missed him, for he had been an affectionate playmate. They never heard me say one word against him—though he had been a heel.

Every month he flew in for a weekend of intoxicating fun with them. He spent more money in an evening than I could spend in a year. I was terrified that they would prefer his gay company to mine.

During adolescence they went through the normal phase of picking on me for trivial things. At times I was so depressed I could scarcely bear it. They never criticized him.

The children are grown now and I feel they grew up as happily as children could with an absent father and a too-serious mother. If I had to do over I would change only one thing. I need fun.

The clue was right under my nose but I was too jealous and hurt to see it. Fun doesn't cost money. It is smiles, laughter and sharing simple pleasures.—S.G.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sen. Johnston Whips Foe By 2-To-1 Vote

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Olin D. Johnston handed young South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings a shattering political defeat Tuesday, winning their battle for Senate nomination by a landslide margin of nearly 2-1.

With 1,469 of the state's 1,604 precincts reporting, Johnston had 175,073 votes to 89,487 for Hollings.

Johnston will face Republican W. D. Workman Jr., Columbia newspaper columnist, in the November general elections.

Donald Russell, 55, Spartanburg attorney and former president of the University of South Carolina, ran away from Lt. Gov. Burnet R. Maybank and three others to win the Democratic nomination for governor. The nomination is tanamount to election since the Republicans have no candidate in the November election.

Russell polled 162,801 votes in returns from 1,482 precincts. His four opponents drew a total of 106,868 votes with runner-up Maybank getting 85,514.

The primary contest was the first political test for the 65-year-old Johnston in 12 years.

In congressional races, two incumbents, 6th District Rep. John L. McMillan and 4th District Rep. Robert T. Ashmore won renomination over opposition.

Manhunt Halted As Hounds Trail Two Fox Hunters

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — The man-hunt for two men who broke out of Highland County Jail was halted a few minutes before midnight Tuesday when deputies discovered their borrowed bloodhounds and been following the spoor of two fox hunters.

The hounds were borrowed from the Clermont County authorities. The search was halted in the Sugar Tree Ridge - Fairfax area south of here.

Two other jailbreakers were captured earlier Tuesday east of Macon in adjoining Brown County.

The fugitives still at large were identified as James Cecil Mabry, 23, of Columbus and Joseph Gerald Dougherty, 38, of Scranton, Pa. Dougherty had been awaiting grand jury action on a concealed weapons charge and Maby was serving a term for a driver's license violation.

Deputies said Dougherty and Mabry, along with Harold Lawwill, 35, of Hillsboro and Glenn McGrath, 28, of Chicago, apparently escaped by sawing through bars on their cells late Monday night or early Tuesday.

The search for the fugitives concentrated in Brown County after two men jumped from a car and fled when a Russellville police officer stopped it for going the wrong way on a one-way street.

The car was driven by Mrs. Edna Huddleston of Hillsboro, who was held for investigation.

Youth Seen Psychotic In Strangling Coed

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A second Akron psychiatrist has testified that Richard John Stewart, 18, of Cuyahoga Falls was psychotic when he strangled a Kent State University coed, Judy Sooy, last September.

"I felt he (Stewart) was an emotionally disturbed individual for some time before," Dr. Benjamin Moorstein testified Tuesday at the youth's first-degree murder trial.

Dr. J. W. German testified earlier that Stewart was psychotic at the time of the slaying.

Stewart has admitted luring the girl, who also lived in Cuyahoga Falls, into his family's home, hitting her on the head with a hammer and then strangling her with a piece of clothesline.

Bank Robber Sought By Cleveland Police

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police were searching today for a bank robber who got a dollar's change before he escaped with $2,960 he ordered a woman teller to put into a paper bag.

"Except for saying 'change' when he gave me the dollar he didn't say a thing," said Barbara M. Cantrall, 24, a teller at the Shaker Heights branch of the Union Commerce Bank.

The robber, described by the teller as about 45 and gray-haired, asked for the change Tuesday and then handed her a paper bag and a note reading:

"I have a gun in my pocket. I will use it if you don't put all the money in the draw (sic) into the bag fast and quietly."

Miss Cantrall said she filled the bag with money from a cash drawer and pressed a silent alarm button as the man walked out. The bank manager ran outside but he could not find the thief.

Greenisen To Speak To Leadership Club

LISBON — Galen Greenisen, county commissioner, will discuss "How the County Government Functions" at a meeting of the junior leadership 4-H Club Thursday, June 21, at St. George's Parish Hall.

Reports of committees and voting on a revised constitution will comprise business. Wayne Walton, president, will preside.

Postal Employe Admits Taking Money From Mail

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Athens substitute postal clerk has pleaded guilty to taking 38 letters containing a total of $37 from the mail.

Paul E. Parsons, 22, entered his plea when arraigned before U.S. District Court Judge Mell Underwood in Columbus Tuesday.

Parsons is being held awaiting a probation investigation and sentencing on two counts of taking money from the mail.

Postal inspectors arrested Parsons early in April after watching him for several weeks. Inspectors said they arrested him only after seeing him place in his car several letters addressed to the Athens County Society for Crippled Children and the Athens Messenger.

The 19 letters taken from the crippled children's society reportedly contained $21 in cash donations, while the 19 addressed to the newspaper for subscriptions payments yielded $16.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I need an opinion. The women who were with me when this happened were horrified by my "bad manners." Am I guilty or not?

We were having lunch in a fashionable restaurant recently. When I began to eat my salad I noticed something under the lettuce leaf which looked strange. I called the waitress and asked what it was. She said she didn't know but she'd take it to the kitchen and find out.

In a few minutes she returned and said, "The chef says it's a piece of pork hock but no one knows how it got in there." I thanked her and that was the end of the matter.

The next morning three of the women present called to tell me I had violated a rule of etiquette. Yes or No?—WANTS TO KNOW.

Dear Wants: If this incident had occurred in the home of a friend their criticism would be valid. In a restaurant, however, it is perfectly proper to inquire about foreign objects in the food. I assume you did it quietly, however, and that you did not make a federal case of it.

Handicapped Brother

Dear Ann: You seem to have a solution to every problem. I hope you can solve mine.

My 16-year-old brother just got out of a reformatory. Nobody will give him a job when he tells them he has been in reform school. He's afraid not to mention his record because people have a way of finding out things. If he lied in an interview, he surely would be fired when the truth came out.

I'm afraid if my brother doesn't get work soon he'll go back to his old gang and that means trouble. My mother is very worried about him because Dad died three years ago and she can't handle him alone.

Do you think he should stop mentioning his reform school record? Please tell me what is best for him.—SAD SISTER.

Dear Sister: Your brother should go back to high school and get his diploma. His record will be a lesser handicap if he is a high school graduate.

He shouldn't try to hide his past when he applies for a job. Unfortunately, some people will not hire a person with a record but I know the world is filled with good people who are willing to give a guy a second chance.

Only One Regret

Dear Ann: Yoir advice is usually excellent. I hope you will think mine is, too.

When my three children were quite young their father left us. He moped 2,000 miles away but kept in touch with gay, mushy letters and very small support checks. The children missed him, for he had been an affectionate playmate. They never heard me say one word against him—though he had been a heel.

Every month he flew in for a weekend of intoxicating fun with them. He spent more money in an evening than I could spend in a year. I was terrified that they would prefer his gay company to mine.

During adolescence they went through the normal phase of picking on me for trivial things. At times I was so depressed I could scarcely bear it. They never criticized him.

The children are grown now and I feel they grew up as happily as children could with an absent father and a too-serious mother. If I had to do over I would change only one thing. I need fun.

The clue was right under my nose but I was too jealous and hurt to see it. Fun doesn't cost money. It is smiles, laughter and sharing simple pleasures.—S.G.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Wells Finally Gets Okayed By TV

If TV gets hungry enough for material, we may see some improvement in the drama it produces. "Show of the Week" is doing H. G. Wells' wild fantasy, "The World of the Blind," on NBC next Sunday from a Frank Gabrielson TV script written more than five years ago.

Hal Humphrey

At that time, producer-director Ralph Nelson was set to do the Wells thriller for the old "Climax" series on CBS. It was scuttled when the sponsor decided that, Wells and fantasy notwithstanding, a story about a blind tribe of South Americans was too downbeat for inspiring the sale of its product.

-:-

NELSON remembered the script when he heard that the "Show of the Week" sponsor was shopping rather desperately to fill a gap in its schedule. The only compromise he had to make was changing the title to "The Richest Man in Bogota." The sponsor feared that "The World of the Blind" made it sound like a documentary about blind people.

Actually the people in Wells' story have no eyes at all. A special latex product was used by makeup artists to mask the eyes of the 40-member cast when "The Richest Man in Bogota" was pretaped in Hollywood two weeks ago.

As big business worries more and more about its "image," the fears and eccentricities of sponsors aren't likely to disappear, but maybe they will be worn down somewhat as the search for good stories becomes more desperate.

"I HOPE this is so," says Nelson, "but I walked up and down Madison Ave. for three years trying to sell 'How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying.' Apparently sponsors didn't see the joke. After my option for TV expired, it was turned into a musical show and is now a hit on Broadway."

Nelson hasn't done much TV since he won an Emmy for directing "Requiem for a Heavyweight" for "Playhouse 90" in 1956. Like most young producers and directors who were developed in the days of live TV drama from New York, he hasn't found much in TV to challenge his talents.

Recently he directed the movie version of "Requiem for a Heavyweight" for Columbia, but by the time the picture is released, the title likely will be changed because Columbia executives claim words like "requiem" and "heavyweight" are poison at the box office. The present thinking is to retitle it "A Man Is a Mountain," which should confuse everybody.

NELSON SEES a poetic irony in the fact that four of this year's movies—"Miracle Worker," "Requiem," "Judgment at Nuremberg" and "Days of Wine and Roses" (coming up)—all are from the now defunct "Playhouse 90" TV series on CBS.

Hubbell Robinson, the man who opened the way for "Playhouse 90" in the CBS schedule, recently returned to a high-echelon post at CBS. Nelson hopes this means the network may again do genuine drama with some of the record profits it has amassed from anemic half-hour comedies.

Next Sunday night with his Wells drama, Nelson will be in direct competition to CBS' "Candid Camera" show, which consistently beats out the NBC "Show of the Week series at the audience rating polls.

"THE SPONSOR has asked me to do something which will grab the audience right at the start, so in the first 3½ minutes you'll see a cock fight, an avalanche and Lee Marvin discovering uranium with a Geiger counter," says Nelson, who got breathless just describing it.

So, if Nelson doesn't top "Candid Camera" with all of that action, he may have to buy a movie camera, find some unsuspecting truck drivers and go into business for himself.

Summitville Family Is Visiting In Maine

Mrs. William Pitts and children of Summitville are visiting her mother in Maine. Her husband and a brother, Robert Pitts, have returned from a business trip in Maine.

Miss Alma Frost and Mrs. Elsie Frost of Cuyahoga Falls visited this week with Mrs. Nora Faloon and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kenmuir. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Patterson of Lisbon visited them on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burell Venney visited in Salem Friday night.

2 Ohio Life-Termers Nabbed After Escape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio Penitentiary honor inmates, life-termers, bolted for freedom Tuesday night after the penitentiary softball team's game against Lockbourne Air Force Base at the Columbus State School.

City police converged on the area and captured Russell Davis, 35, of Cleveland and John P. Berger, 27, of Elyria within minutes, and within a couple blocks of the ball field.

Davis and Berger, both sentenced for second-degree murder, probably will have time added onto their parole eligibility tenure by an institutional court.

No-Passing Zones Will Be Increased

William P. McKenna, Division 11 deputy director, said motorists on state highways will notice more double yellow lines signifying no-passing zones this year due to a change in requirements by the Highway Department.

The centerline striping program in Division 11 will include at least 20 per cent more no-passing areas than previously in order to conform to new requirements of the American Association of State Highway Officials manual. This is being done in the interest of traffic safety. The minimum passing sight distance has been increased from 600 feet to 800 feet.

The change in styles of automobiles to the low slung compact cars and an increase in driving speeds with better surfaced highways has made the change in allowable passing sight distance necessary, according to McKenna.

Slim Waist Termed 'Fashion's Darling'

Fat is insidious, it creeps up. Unhappily, creeping pounds loom large at the waist. When the squeeze is on, one might wish the dress manufacturers would allow just a bit more leeway in the waist measurement.

Ida Jean Kain

Hold it! We wouldn't really want more latitude at the waist, for thickening through the middle is undeniably aging. If the waist pinches, alter your figure.

Ordinarily in giving waistline measurements I start with the small sizes and progress to the larger ones. For a change, let's start with large sizes and come down the scale. That's our objective.

Size 20, waist 32½ inches; size 18, waist 30½; size 16, waist 28½; size 14, waist 27; size 12, 25½; size 10, 24½.

IT IS PLAIN to see from the above that two inches off the waist measure, even in the large sizes, would let you slip into a size smaller dress.

On the pound score, in misses sizes, 14 pounds on or off bring a change in size, and a 1½ inch change in waistline. In women's sizes 16 pounds off equates with 2½ inches off the waist — provided enough of the fat comes off the waistline.

How do you take weight off the waist? The streamlining way to slim down is to make the waistline the target for exercise. A clearly defined waist is not a matter of weight alone, but of muscle control. Toned muscles shape the waist.

Stretching, combined with side-bending is wonderfully effective. Experiment. Stretch both arms overhead, then extend the stretch an inch, centering the uplift smack through the middle measurement. In brief, get the entire trunk into the stretch. Hold the muscular contraction and follow through with a side-bend.

With the following exercise you can re-tone the boundary line muscles.

Sit in balance, on the hard seat of a dining chair without arms. Arc arms overhead with fingers clasped, palms turned upwards. Slowly s-t-r-e-t-c-h upward with the trunk muscles along the left side, then slowly b-e-n-d sidewards toward the right.

Bend as far as you can without crumpling the waist along the right side. Hold this stretch - bend for a slow count of six, breathing freely. Slowly come back to upright sitting position, bring arms down and relax for a second or two.

—:—

REPEAT THE action again on the same side. Follow through with a held stretch-bend to the left. Get the feel of the waist narrowing.

Make the waistline the target for exercise. The youthful, slim waist is fashion's darling — let's keep it that way.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Who Fails Needs Reassurance

A word of sympathy to the child in the elementary or junior high, school who didn't get promoted and to the high school or college senior who didn't make it. In some cases, it would be correct to say it was his own fault he failed. Even then it hardly helps to tell him so now. Some pupils and students failing of promotion or graduation will be abused, held in disgrace, even cursed, at home. It's for them we should have special sympathy.

Dr. Garry Meyers

OUR CONCERN is not only for the child suffering from such barbarity, but also for his loss of self - regard, his hopes for the future, his will to strive. His abusers also have rendered themselves less able to help and encourage him in learning from now on. All these tragedies increase when a brother, cousin or pal of the "failing" child has excelled at school. Just imagine yourself in the victim's place.

—:—

SUPPOSE YOUR child in the 3rd, 4th or 8th grade has not won promotion. Why punish or abuse him? It's water over the dam. Consider what may be done to help him win more success at school next year and the next, how to cause him to want to keep on striving, how to make sure he won't join the big army of dropouts.

The first thing to do is for the whole family to decide not to dwell on the matter of his failure and to avoid all suggestions of disgrace. Instead, they should conspire to reassure the child of security in the family — to help him grow in self-regard.

YOU WOULD, of course, seek information and advice from the school. You might also seek council from an expert on what may be done, now or later, to help this child with his studies.

Whatever the procedure, your aim should be to win the child's co-operation and inspire in him hope and eagerness to keep plodding. To this end, you might consider his attending summer school, if such is available, having a tutor for him during part of the summer, or doing nothing at all till next fall.

In some cases, forgetting all about the matter now might be best.

If you attempt to tutor the child yourself, be sure you can stick to a regular program and guide it with infinite patience.

My bulletins, "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, and Arithmetic" and "Helping Child with Lessons at Home," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Man Uses Tractor To Fight Home Fire

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — Gerald VanLast, his wife and three children were routed from their beds to find the opposite end of their ranch-style home in flames.

As the blaze raced through the house toward the wing containing the bedrooms, VanLast looped a logging chain around the burning portion of the house.

Tying the other end of the chain to his tractor, he pulled the burning section away from the untouched wing and saved the bedrooms.

Wells Finally Gets Okayed By TV

If TV gets hungry enough for material, we may see some improvement in the drama it produces. "Show of the Week" is doing H. G. Wells' wild fantasy, "The World of the Blind," on NBC next Sunday from a Frank Gabrielson TV script written more than five years ago.

Hal Humphrey

At that time, producer-director Ralph Nelson was set to do the Wells thriller for the old "Climax" series on CBS. It was scuttled when the sponsor decided that, Wells and fantasy notwithstanding, a story about a blind tribe of South Americans was too downbeat for inspiring the sale of its product.

-:-

NELSON remembered the script when he heard that the "Show of the Week" sponsor was shopping rather desperately to fill a gap in its schedule. The only compromise he had to make was changing the title to "The Richest Man in Bogota." The sponsor feared that "The World of the Blind" made it sound like a documentary about blind people.

Actually the people in Wells' story have no eyes at all. A special latex product was used by makeup artists to mask the eyes of the 40-member cast when "The Richest Man in Bogota" was pretaped in Hollywood two weeks ago.

As big business worries more and more about its "image," the fears and eccentricities of sponsors aren't likely to disappear, but maybe they will be worn down somewhat as the search for good stories becomes more desperate.

"I HOPE this is so," says Nelson, "but I walked up and down Madison Ave. for three years trying to sell 'How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying.' Apparently sponsors didn't see the joke. After my option for TV expired, it was turned into a musical show and is now a hit on Broadway."

Nelson hasn't done much TV since he won an Emmy for directing "Requiem for a Heavyweight" for "Playhouse 90" in 1956. Like most young producers and directors who were developed in the days of live TV drama from New York, he hasn't found much in TV to challenge his talents.

Recently he directed the movie version of "Requiem for a Heavyweight" for Columbia, but by the time the picture is released, the title likely will be changed because Columbia executives claim words like "requiem" and "heavyweight" are poison at the box office. The present thinking is to retitle it "A Man Is a Mountain," which should confuse everybody.

NELSON SEES a poetic irony in the fact that four of this year's movies—"Miracle Worker," "Requiem," "Judgment at Nuremberg" and "Days of Wine and Roses" (coming up)—all are from the now defunct "Playhouse 90" TV series on CBS.

Hubbell Robinson, the man who opened the way for "Playhouse 90" in the CBS schedule, recently returned to a high-echelon post at CBS. Nelson hopes this means the network may again do genuine drama with some of the record profits it has amassed from anemic half-hour comedies.

Next Sunday night with his Wells drama, Nelson will be in direct competition to CBS' "Candid Camera" show, which consistently beats out the NBC "Show of the Week series at the audience rating polls.

"THE SPONSOR has asked me to do something which will grab the audience right at the start, so in the first 3½ minutes you'll see a cock fight, an avalanche and Lee Marvin discovering uranium with a Geiger counter," says Nelson, who got breathless just describing it.

So, if Nelson doesn't top "Candid Camera" with all of that action, he may have to buy a movie camera, find some unsuspecting truck drivers and go into business for himself.

Summitville Family Is Visiting In Maine

Mrs. William Pitts and children of Summitville are visiting her mother in Maine. Her husband and a brother, Robert Pitts, have returned from a business trip in Maine.

Miss Alma Frost and Mrs. Elsie Frost of Cuyahoga Falls visited this week with Mrs. Nora Faloon and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kenmuir. Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Patterson of Lisbon visited them on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burell Venney visited in Salem Friday night.

2 Ohio Life-Termers Nabbed After Escape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio Penitentiary honor inmates, life-termers, bolted for freedom Tuesday night after the penitentiary softball team's game against Lockbourne Air Force Base at the Columbus State School.

City police converged on the area and captured Russell Davis, 35, of Cleveland and John P. Berger, 27, of Elyria within minutes, and within a couple blocks of the ball field.

Davis and Berger, both sentenced for second-degree murder, probably will have time added onto their parole eligibility tenure by an institutional court.

Yule Tree Producers To See Demonstration

Use of airplanes to extinguish forest fires will be among demonstrations to be presented at a summer tour meeting of the Ohio Christmas Tree Growers July 20-21 at the Robert Donahey farm and East Local School, about four miles south of Hanoverton.

James Pendry of Lisbon, chairman of the event, said at least 25 exhibits will be set up near the school house, and a dinner and business session will be held at Queens Gardens of Route 30 east of Hanoverton.

Man Uses Tractor To Fight Home Fire

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — Gerald VanLast, his wife and three children were routed from their beds to find the opposite end of their ranch-style home in flames.

As the blaze raced through the house toward the wing containing the bedrooms, VanLast looped a logging chain around the burning portion of the house.

Tying the other end of the chain to his tractor, he pulled the burning section away from the untouched wing and saved the bedrooms.

Bird, Bee Navigation Secrets Included In Science Topics

By The Associated Press

Bird and bee navigation secrets, balloons for scientists, and a space jaywalker are topics in science news:

Bird and Bee Secrets

Humans have made great progress in developing guidance systems for space vehicles, but "it will take 100 years for electronics to catch up with the sophisticated guidance and sensory systems of the birds and the bees," says John L. Burns, former president of Radio Corporation of America.

"Evidence now at hand suggests that in flight the bat finds his way by bouncing ultrasonic waves off solid objects; the pigeon homes on the magnetic lines of the earth; a bird flies thousands of miles from the tree branch in your backyard, and returns to the same branch, through stellar navigation.

"If we could only translate this characteristic into a mathematical formula—and then into hardware—we could endow an earth satellite with a similarly adaptable 'eye' that would select the precise information it was sent aloft to obtain."

Floating Laboratory

Scientists are getting their own special balloon flight station, to be set up this summer at Palestine, Texas.

From this base, they can release balloons lofting up instruments for high altitude study of the atmosphere and weather phenomena, for astronomical studies above the clouding effects of the earth's air, and for capturing primary cosmic rays.

Long planned, the balloon facility will be built and operated by the National Center for Atmospheric Research at Boulder, Colo. with the tab paid by the National Science Foundation.

Space Jaywalker

Hermes is the name of one of the sun's minor planets, a chunk of rock about a mile in diameter, weighing perhaps three billion tons.

Unlike other minor planets that follow orderly paths between Mars and Jupiter, Hermes has an eccentric orbit, and can actually come within about 200,000 miles of the earth, closer than the moon itself, and a near miss, cosmically speaking.

But the chance that it or similar bodies would ever collide with the earth with devastating effects is infinitesmally small, says John W. Macvey in Space Digest magazine.

Perhaps, he suggests, men in space ships one day might be able to rendezvous with one of the minor planets possessing a wide-ranging orbit, equip it with transmitters, and let it send back data on the reaches of space it visits.

Ways, Means Leader Hits Tax Cut Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee says he does not support proposals for an across the board tax cut.

The statement Tuesday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., posed an immediate threat to President Kennedy's announced intention of seeking a tax cut from Congress early next year.

In another development, Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., said today he is considering trying to write a general tax cut this year into the Kennedy administration's tax revision bill now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Mills, who heads the committee that handles all tax legislation in the House, said while testifying before another House committee, "You have not heard me advocating tax reduction this year or next year.

"I have not committed myself to that course of action. I have not said I would be for a reduction in our total revenues while we are spending more than we are taking in."

Kennedy has proposed a tax cut next year as a means of stimulating the economy and reducing unemployment.

Mills told the committee that he favors a broad scale revision of tax laws which the administration is expected to propose as a companion measure with the tax cut. But he made it plain he won't support a measure that might throw the budget for the next fiscal year out of balance, adding to the national debt.

7,000-Volt Shock From Antenna Fatal To Marine

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A Marine sergeant from Ohio was killed by a 7,000-volt shock while helping put up a television antenna at a neighbor's home.

Desperate efforts were made to save Sgt. Robert E. Millington, 26, but he was pronounced dead three hours after Tuesday's accident. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Millington of Richwood, Ohio. They survive along with the sergeant's widow, Jane, and two children, Francis, 1½, and Shawn Marie, 4 months.

Millington and Pfc. William Wiggins, 25, were erecting the antenna when its metal shaft touched an overhead power line. The current entered Millington's hands, passed through his body and out his shoes.

Wiggins, unhurt, carried Millington down a ladder and began artificial respiration. When an ambulance arrived, oxygen and artificial respiration were administered. The victim's heart was beating faintly when he was carried into the hospital, where three physicians and seven nurses took over, resorting to chest incision and heart massage in a final vain attempt to keep him alive.

Millington was with the 2nd Marine Division at nearby Camp LeJeune.

Pleads Innocent

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — First-degree murder charges were filed and the accused man pleaded innocent Tuesday in the Monday night tavern shooting that killed Robert Eaton of Cambridge and wounded another man. Garnett Bailey, 52, of near Lore City was ordered held without bond after arraignment in Municipal Court.

Odor Leads Officers To 111 Dogs, 60 Cats

BOSTON (AP)—Cats, and cats, and cats. Dogs, and dogs, and dogs.

That's what police found in a Hyde Park dwelling when they broke down the door after neighbors complained of offensive odors.

On the ground floor, the officers counted 111 dogs of all sizes, shapes and breeds.

Upstairs, there were some 60 cats, black, calico, large, small—all kinds.

Animal rescue league crews removed the menagerie and police took a 63-year-old widow to Boston State Hospital for mental observation.

Police said the animals were well fed but the house wasn't fit for a dog or cat to live in.

Man In Marietta Will Be Charged In Murder Of 2

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Acting Prosecutor Richard Thomas questioned Gale McKnight in City Jail Tuesday night, got a statement from him, then said first-degree murder charges would be filed at an arraignment in Municipal Court this morning.

The charges would include two counts: one for the murder of Mrs. Elsie McKnight, 41, and one for the slaying of Sandra Lou McKnight, 14.

They were McKnight's estranged wife and daughter. They were found dead of .22 caliber rifle wounds early Tuesday in Mrs. McKnight's home here. The couple's other daughters, Emmagail, 15, and Roseanna, 11, found the bodies when they returned from an overnight visit with friends.

McKnight, 37, who didn't show up for work at the American Cyanamid Co. the night of the slayings, was picked up within hours about 30 miles away in Ritchie County, W. Va. What was believed to be the murder weapon was found in his possession. He waived extradition and was turned over to Marietta police by West Virginia state troopers.

Ohio Retailers' Sales For April Seen Above 1961

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The early incidence of Easter in 1961 muddles the picture a bit, but Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research reports April 1962 sales of Ohio retailers were up sharply over the level for April 1961.

The bureau attributes a substantial part of the rise to the fact that Easter 1961 fell on April 2, placing most of that holiday's sales volume in March.

The largest April -to- April increases were found in Easter-affected lines, such as department, clothing and shoe store sales, the latter being as high as 45 per cent.

Less fuzzy is the comparison between the first four months of the two years. This finds Ohio retail trade having averaged a 9 per cent gain in 1962 over 1961. Biggest gains were for automobile dealers (up 23 per cent) and plumbing equipment dealers (up 55 per cent).

All the major Ohio cities registered gains both from April to April, led by Chillicothe at 25 per cent, and for the first four months of the year over the similar part of 1961, led by Columbus' 10 per cent.

The four largest countries in the world, in order, are the U. S. S. R., China, Canada, and Brazil.

3 Ohioans Testify On Grain Transport

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio grain operators were among witnesses before the Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday to support contentions of the Southern Railway, which seeks permission to establish low multicar rates from certain Midwest points to the Southeast.

Along with two colleagues from Illinois, the Ohioans testified that a heavy volume of grain is moved by trucks which do not come under ICC regulation. Opponents of Southern Railways's application have contended truck transport of grain is minor and that Southern's proposed low rail rates are directed mainly at barge - line competition.

The Ohio witnesses were Frank Miller, Ohio Grain Co., Milford Center; James Wagner, Central Ohio Grain Co., Bloomingburg, and Byron Shepard, Shepard Grain Co. Christiansburg.

Bird, Bee Navigation Secrets Included In Science Topics

By The Associated Press

Bird and bee navigation secrets, balloons for scientists, and a space jaywalker are topics in science news:

Bird and Bee Secrets

Humans have made great progress in developing guidance systems for space vehicles, but "it will take 100 years for electronics to catch up with the sophisticated guidance and sensory systems of the birds and the bees," says John L. Burns, former president of Radio Corporation of America.

"Evidence now at hand suggests that in flight the bat finds his way by bouncing ultrasonic waves off solid objects; the pigeon homes on the magnetic lines of the earth; a bird flies thousands of miles from the tree branch in your backyard, and returns to the same branch, through stellar navigation.

"If we could only translate this characteristic into a mathematical formula—and then into hardware—we could endow an earth satellite with a similarly adaptable 'eye' that would select the precise information it was sent aloft to obtain."

Floating Laboratory

Scientists are getting their own special balloon flight station, to be set up this summer at Palestine, Texas.

From this base, they can release balloons lofting up instruments for high altitude study of the atmosphere and weather phenomena, for astronomical studies above the clouding effects of the earth's air, and for capturing primary cosmic rays.

Long planned, the balloon facility will be built and operated by the National Center for Atmospheric Research at Boulder, Colo. with the tab paid by the National Science Foundation.

Space Jaywalker

Hermes is the name of one of the sun's minor planets, a chunk of rock about a mile in diameter, weighing perhaps three billion tons.

Unlike other minor planets that follow orderly paths between Mars and Jupiter, Hermes has an eccentric orbit, and can actually come within about 200,000 miles of the earth, closer than the moon itself, and a near miss, cosmically speaking.

But the chance that it or similar bodies would ever collide with the earth with devastating effects is infinitesmally small, says John W. Macvey in Space Digest magazine.

Perhaps, he suggests, men in space ships one day might be able to rendezvous with one of the minor planets possessing a wide-ranging orbit, equip it with transmitters, and let it send back data on the reaches of space it visits.

3 Ohioans Testify On Grain Transport

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio grain operators were among witnesses before the Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday to support contentions of the Southern Railway, which seeks permission to establish low multicar rates from certain Midwest points to the Southeast.

Along with two colleagues from Illinois, the Ohioans testified that a heavy volume of grain is moved by trucks which do not come under ICC regulation. Opponents of Southern Railways's application have contended truck transport of grain is minor and that Southern's proposed low rail rates are directed mainly at barge - line competition.

The Ohio witnesses were Frank Miller, Ohio Grain Co., Milford Center; James Wagner, Central Ohio Grain Co., Bloomingburg, and Byron Shepard, Shepard Grain Co. Christiansburg.

Ways, Means Leader Hits Tax Cut Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee says he does not support proposals for an across the board tax cut.

The statement Tuesday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., posed an immediate threat to President Kennedy's announced intention of seeking a tax cut from Congress early next year.

In another development, Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., said today he is considering trying to write a general tax cut this year into the Kennedy administration's tax revision bill now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Mills, who heads the committee that handles all tax legislation in the House, said while testifying before another House committee, "You have not heard me advocating tax reduction this year or next year.

"I have not committed myself to that course of action. I have not said I would be for a reduction in our total revenues while we are spending more than we are taking in."

Kennedy has proposed a tax cut next year as a means of stimulating the economy and reducing unemployment.

Mills told the committee that he favors a broad scale revision of tax laws which the administration is expected to propose as a companion measure with the tax cut. But he made it plain he won't support a measure that might throw the budget for the next fiscal year out of balance, adding to the national debt.

7,000-Volt Shock From Antenna Fatal To Marine

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A Marine sergeant from Ohio was killed by a 7,000-volt shock while helping put up a television antenna at a neighbor's home.

Desperate efforts were made to save Sgt. Robert E. Millington, 26, but he was pronounced dead three hours after Tuesday's accident. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Millington of Richwood, Ohio. They survive along with the sergeant's widow, Jane, and two children, Francis, 1½, and Shawn Marie, 4 months.

Millington and Pfc. William Wiggins, 25, were erecting the antenna when its metal shaft touched an overhead power line. The current entered Millington's hands, passed through his body and out his shoes.

Wiggins, unhurt, carried Millington down a ladder and began artificial respiration. When an ambulance arrived, oxygen and artificial respiration were administered. The victim's heart was beating faintly when he was carried into the hospital, where three physicians and seven nurses took over, resorting to chest incision and heart massage in a final vain attempt to keep him alive.

Millington was with the 2nd Marine Division at nearby Camp LeJeune.

Pleads Innocent

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — First-degree murder charges were filed and the accused man pleaded innocent Tuesday in the Monday night tavern shooting that killed Robert Eaton of Cambridge and wounded another man. Garnett Bailey, 52, of near Lore City was ordered held without bond after arraignment in Municipal Court.

Odor Leads Officers To 111 Dogs, 60 Cats

BOSTON (AP)—Cats, and cats, and cats. Dogs, and dogs, and dogs.

That's what police found in a Hyde Park dwelling when they broke down the door after neighbors complained of offensive odors.

On the ground floor, the officers counted 111 dogs of all sizes, shapes and breeds.

Upstairs, there were some 60 cats, black, calico, large, small—all kinds.

Animal rescue league crews removed the menagerie and police took a 63-year-old widow to Boston State Hospital for mental observation.

Police said the animals were well fed but the house wasn't fit for a dog or cat to live in.

Man In Marietta Will Be Charged In Murder Of 2

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Acting Prosecutor Richard Thomas questioned Gale McKnight in City Jail Tuesday night, got a statement from him, then said first-degree murder charges would be filed at an arraignment in Municipal Court this morning.

The charges would include two counts: one for the murder of Mrs. Elsie McKnight, 41, and one for the slaying of Sandra Lou McKnight, 14.

They were McKnight's estranged wife and daughter. They were found dead of .22 caliber rifle wounds early Tuesday in Mrs. McKnight's home here. The couple's other daughters, Emmagail, 15, and Roseanna, 11, found the bodies when they returned from an overnight visit with friends.

McKnight, 37, who didn't show up for work at the American Cyanamid Co. the night of the slayings, was picked up within hours about 30 miles away in Ritchie County, W. Va. What was believed to be the murder weapon was found in his possession. He waived extradition and was turned over to Marietta police by West Virginia state troopers.

Ohio Retailers' Sales For April Seen Above 1961

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The early incidence of Easter in 1961 muddles the picture a bit, but Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research reports April 1962 sales of Ohio retailers were up sharply over the level for April 1961.

The bureau attributes a substantial part of the rise to the fact that Easter 1961 fell on April 2, placing most of that holiday's sales volume in March.

The largest April -to- April increases were found in Easter-affected lines, such as department, clothing and shoe store sales, the latter being as high as 45 per cent.

Less fuzzy is the comparison between the first four months of the two years. This finds Ohio retail trade having averaged a 9 per cent gain in 1962 over 1961. Biggest gains were for automobile dealers (up 23 per cent) and plumbing equipment dealers (up 55 per cent).

All the major Ohio cities registered gains both from April to April, led by Chillicothe at 25 per cent, and for the first four months of the year over the similar part of 1961, led by Columbus' 10 per cent.

The four largest countries in the world, in order, are the U. S. S. R., China, Canada, and Brazil.

Junior Editors Quiz on
THE SUN

QUESTION:: When will the sun burn out?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Before we give you an answer, we must make it clear just how the sun is burning. If, as we have suggested in our upper picture, the sun were once an enormous chunk of coal, it would have burned out in only 1,500 years and you would not be here to ask your question. Actually, the sun is burning in a different way: it is burning by atomic fushion. Inside its inconceivably hot cauldron are countless billions of tiny hydrogen atoms, dashing in all directions. As they collide, four atoms of hydrogen unite and turn into one of helium. In the process, almost one percent of the original hydrogen is changed into light and heat, and it is this which bursts out into sunrays, on which we depend for our lives. So, the sun is continually losing weight; about four million tons of its mass is changed into energy every second. Yet so gigantic is the sun, that scientists tell us it should go on burning for something like 35 billion years.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Let's all relax and stop worrying about the sun burning out. Instead, let's be grateful for the wonderful gift of sunlight and try to make this world worthy of it.

★ ★ ★

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: "Toss Pillows" in the front room are always used for everything . . . but I finally covered mine with cotton "shag and loop" rugs. These have worn like iron. These covers have been washed over and over again and show no wear after five years. I always said that if I ever had time that I would love to make a slipcover for that favorite chair everyone sits in! Believe me . . . there is nothing cheaper that looks and wears so well. Doesn't show soil easily either.

MRS. RICHARD HATZEL

Don't cast this hint aside. It's fabulous. I know. We covered some breakfast room chairs once in some looped, shag rugs that we bought on sale. They were wonderful and so rich looking!

Everyone commented on this. The covers didn't show dust, grease spots, soil or "seat" prints!

These covers can be removed from the chairs (or pillows) and washed in your washing machine—which saves a dry cleaning bill. We thumb-tacked ours on the bottom of our removable seat boards on our 37 dining room chairs. These boards can be removed with a twist of a screwdriver.

It's easy, simple and gives you a sense of accomplishment to be able to have something so fabulous in your dining or breakfast room. It's for sure that many of your friends won't have it.

And if I may make one more suggestion . . . think of using bath mats for this same purpose (providing you can get some matching ones on sale.)

Bath mats are easy to tack on the chair, cheap, no trouble to wash and give an entirely different effect. They come in such beautiful colors and textures now, and are just about the right size. Don't discard the idea until you have tried it.

Write to us . . . anytime. We are here for you! Got an idea you are willing to share with your friend . . . the other woman who is sitting in her kitchen, having that cup of coffee, wondering how she can make her budget stretch, or better yet . . . her strength?

Send it in. Like I say, there is nothing more wonderful than that little old 4-cent stamp and that pencil. It brings you true friends who understand you.

Send your letters of frustration, problems, hints and thoughts to Heloise, in care of The Review today! Your coffee companion is waiting for them.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

Know those plastic tablecloths we use on our kitchen tables? Well . . . next time you are in town buy one and make a curtain for your bathroom out of it.

The ruffles do not have to be hemmed and the plastic is real easy to sew on. They may be removed from the window and rinsed in the bathtub, then put right back on the window.

I also made cottage curtains for my kitchen out of one pink plastic tablecloth. I bought a design that looked lacy and people have no idea it's a tablecloth.

SANDRA YAP

Driveway Magic

DEAR HELOISE:

I sprinkle wash day detergent on grease spots on my driveway when it is gently raining. The spots disappear like magic.

President Criticized On Business Attitude

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Canton industrialist said Tuesday night he thought President Kennedy still does not have a favorable attitude toward business.

"The fact we've had a stock market collapse means little to the President and his crew - cut advisers," said William E. Umstattd, chairman of the executive committee of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. in Canton.

The business executive said he felt unrealistic allowances in the tax structure and equipment depreciation are one reason industry in this country has not expanded faster.

Umstattd spoke before the Northern Ohio chapter of the Scrap Iron and Steel Institute.

Endorses Medicare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The King-Anderson medicare bill has received the endorsement of the League of Young Ohio Democrats. State Sen. Oliver Ocasek, D-Summit, league president, said in announcing the endorsement Tuesday that the bill is "the most important issue facing the country today."

Dayton Exceeds Goal For Education Fund

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The drive to raise $6 million in behalf of higher education in Dayton has gone over the top.

At a final report meeting Tuesday night, it was reported that the goal had been exceeded by $37,870.

The successful campaign means the community can go ahead with its $3 million program to establish an Ohio State University-Miami University sponsored state university branch. The other $3 million will enable the University of Dayton to erect a student union and a business administration building.

Hurls 15th Question

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has put another campaign question—15th in the series—to State Auditor James A. Rhodes, his rival in the November election. DiSalle asked: "Will you divest yourself of any outside business connections if you are elected governor?" Rhodes was not available for comment. The governor declined to say if he knew whether Rhodes has any such connections.
